LISA CHOSEN 25th

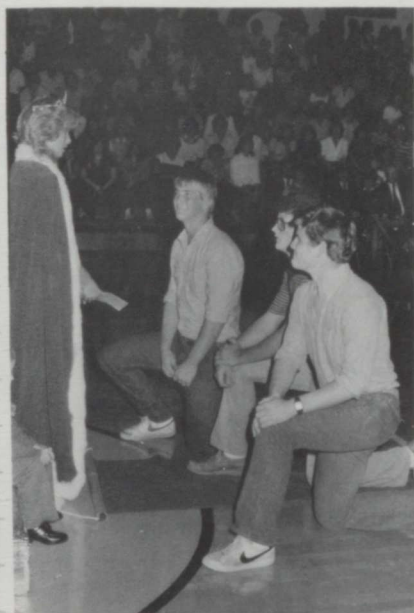

Our 1982 Homecoming Queen, Jenni Collins firmly rests the crown on her successor, Lisa Finnegan.

The bandwagon, led by alumni Shellie Statser, parades in their first aud.

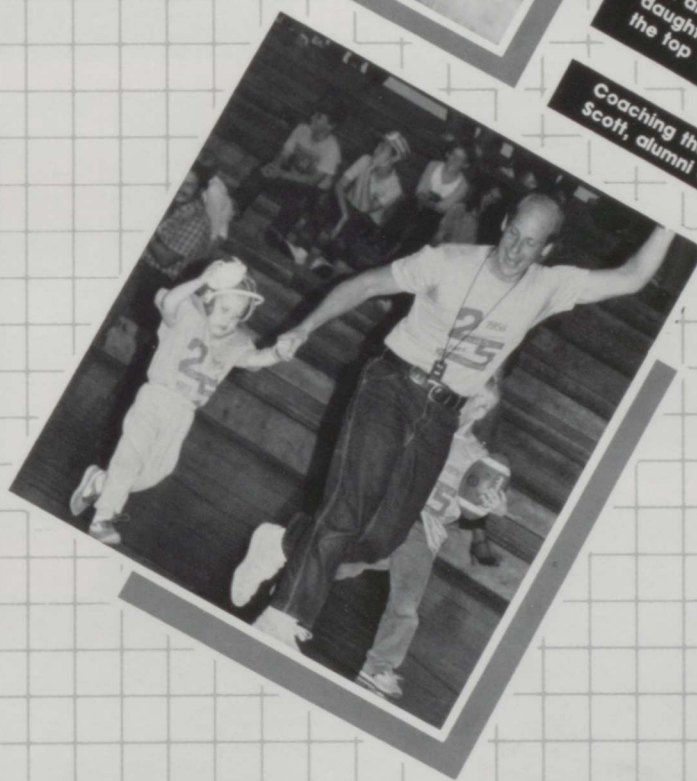

Three candidates: Tammy Wuestenberg, Wendy Krupa, and Meg Flenker, offer congratulations to our new queen.

Football captains John Feyen, Glenn Blacklock, and Mike Main listen to the 1983 Homecoming Proclamation.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Finnegan greet their daughter, Lisa, as she takes her stand with the top 10.

Coaching the future football team of North Scott, alumni Chris Porter gives a cheer.

Although we were accustomed to crowning our HC Queens during the school day, the HC Committee transferred the ceremony to Tuesday evening, September 27. It was unique because, due to a tie, 11 girls were nominated which added to the battle for the voters in choosing the queen! The lucky 11 were: Susan Lake, Rachel Bohlmann, Stacy Braack, Melissa McDonald, Wendy Krupa, Meg Flenker, Lisa Finnegan, Sheila Keppy, Wendy White, Kathy Rathjen, and Tammy Weustenberg with Lisa Finnegan becoming the '83 HC Queen, crowned by the reigning Jenni Collins.

Yet, the night had only just begun, as the saying goes. Immediately afterwards, the masses moved to the cafeteria and commons where the yearbook sponsored a birthday party, which included distributing the anniversary yearbooks, a dance with KLIK's Sue Chekouras as the disc jockey, and a 12' x 3' chocolate chip cookie with a birthday greeting and the Lancer emblem sketched in icing on the top.

M

egahours of hard work led to our extravagant 25th Anniversary Homecoming Parade on Thursday, Sept. 29.

Grand marshal, Betty Stamer, led an array of former cheerleaders, schoolboard members and football players alongside today's counterparts.

The judging of the floats by local mayors added a new twist. Those awarded entries were: Sophomores (best class entry), Jay Pewe (most humorous entry), OK Hardware (best walking entry), Mrs. McClurg and Mrs. Hall (best costumes), Doug Garner (best decorated auto), Eld. Coop (best merchant float), classes '64-'68 (best theme), and Fahrenkrog Oil (best overall float).

Student Congress under the guidance of Mr. Galen Howsare organized the parade.

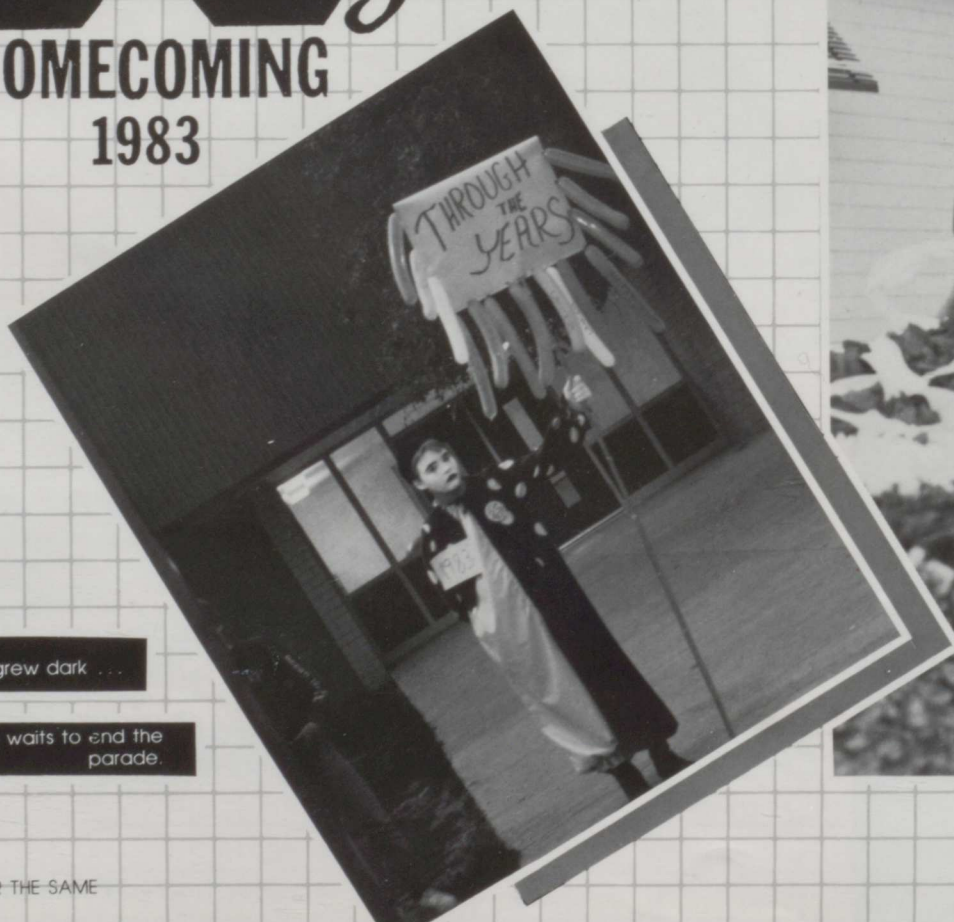

Clowning around, Lancer Productions' members present "Through the Years".

Distance runners, T. Long, W. Bare, K. Schneckloth, L. Rosmilso, and M. Bernis parade in their 'tennis shoe' float.

Past cheerleaders prove ... once a cheerleader

CAVALCADE

Lisa Finnegan secures herself for her regal ride.

Entering the parade for the first time are elementary students from the John Glenn Student Council.

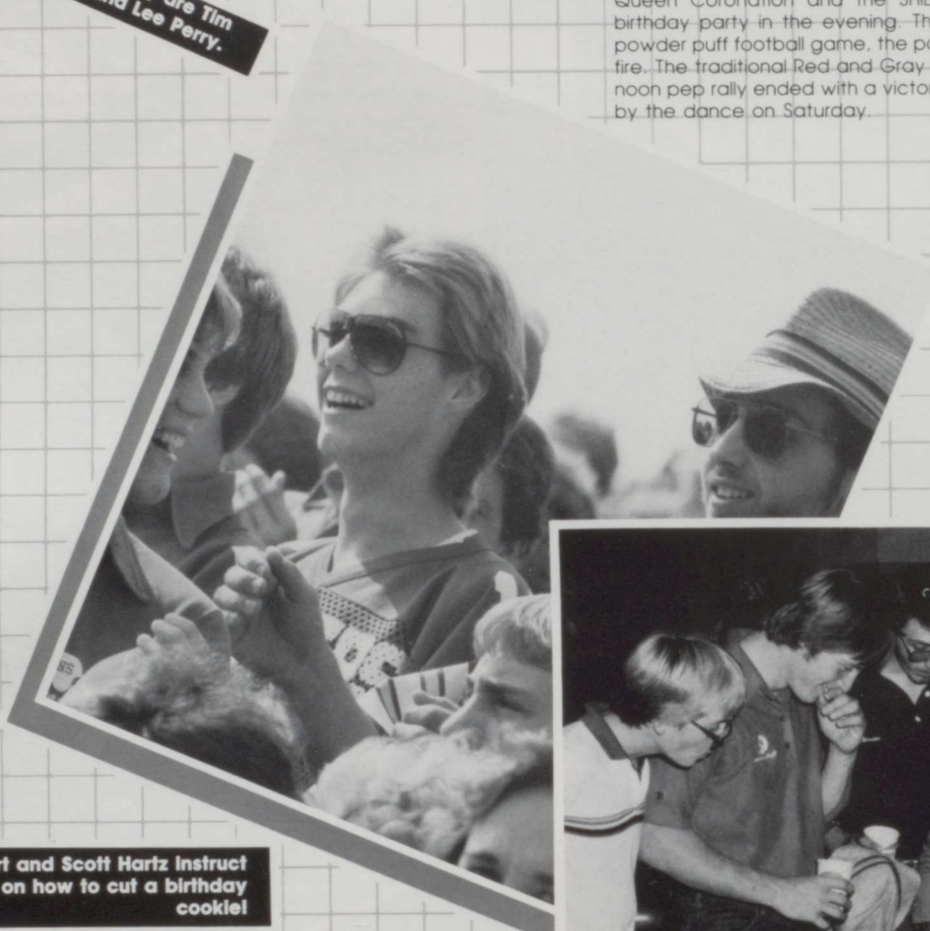

The bonfire provides extra sparks for McGinnis,

Oswald, Roche, and Kirby.

Looking forward to a shining victory are Tim Woomert and Lee Perry.

cheduling the events for the largest homecoming celebration NS has ever seen was no easy chore. On Tuesday, September 13 the seniors voted for the Top 10 followed by a pep assembly to announce the winners on Friday. Mrs. Kube's REACH group won the first prize pizza lunch in the banner contest. The awaited for week began on Tuesday September 17 with the Queen Coronation and the SHIELD sponsored 25th birthday party in the evening. Thursday brought the powder puff football game, the parade, and the bonfire. The traditional Red and Gray Friday with its afternoon pep rally ended with a victorious game followed by the dance on Saturday.

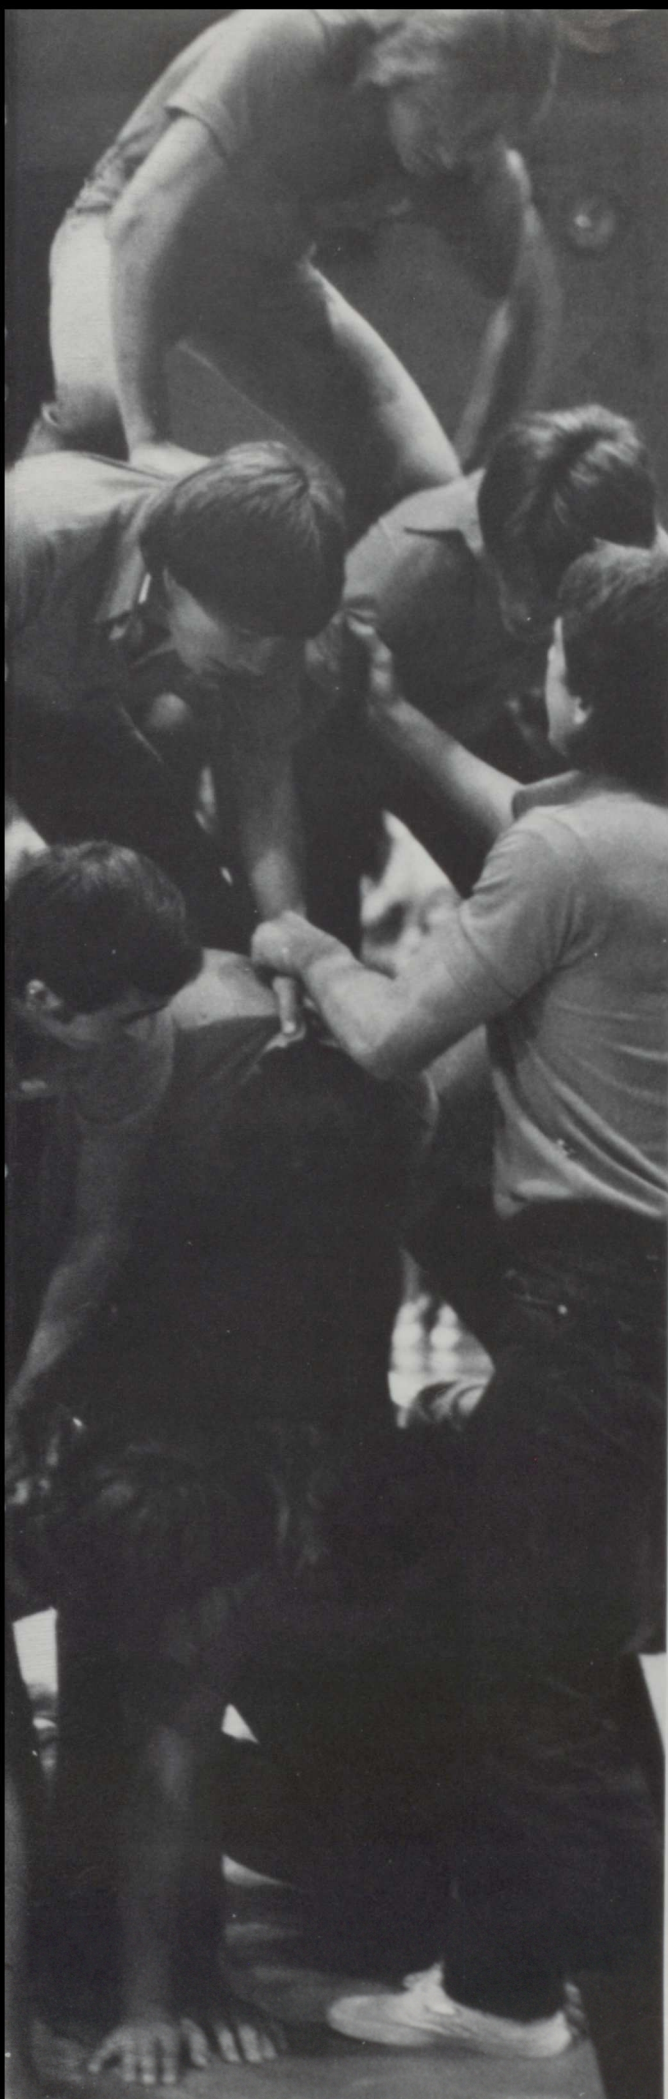

Lee Perry, Doug Wilbert and Scott Hartz instruct Mrs. Linda McClurg on how to cut a birthday cookie!

The varsity football team looks on as Mr. Steve Mohr indulges in an aud (and odd) activity.

Leafing through THE SILVER SHIELD are G. Whitesides, B. Fousek, J. Glabb, and J. Wright at the 25th Anniversary Birthday Party.

PARTICIPATION

Red and Gray day was visible in the faces of C. Petersen and M. Cunningham.

Rooting for success are B. Ohi, G. Evans, T. Finnegan, A. Woodside, and M. Lindaman.

Giving his famous L-A-N-C-E-R-victory cheer is Mr. Randy Denner.

Varsity football players go for a victory in the pyramid building contest.

What else would a true black and gold Hawkeye fan like Betty Stamer expect from the office staff as a going away gift?

Crossing the gym floor and receiving a standing ovation of appreciation, Mrs. Betty Stamer, R.N., heads toward the microphone.

H.S. faculty and staff listen as Mr. Larry Lake reminiscences with unusual stories from the past 25 years of Betty Stamer's career!

best wishes!

Taking the microphone from S.C. President Meg Flenker is Betty Stamer after accepting a tackle box and fishing pole from the student body.

25 years dispensing care

Taking the arm of her husband, Mr. Howard Stamer, Mrs. Betty Stamer takes her place during the Homecoming Queen Crowning Aud.

Homecoming Chairpersons, Kim Schneckloth and Mary Saskowski present Mrs. Stamer to the 25th Anniversary Homecoming Half-Time crowd.

Betty Stamer lets head cook Phyllis Shannon take over the job of cutting her retirement cake presented by the faculty.

is my birthday. I am 65, and I am retiring." With these words, after a standing ovation in the Lancer gym, a twenty-five year career at North Scott ended for our nurse, Betty Stamer.

With a few gifts in hand, Betty and her husband, Howard, looked back over helping a growing district emerge into what we have today.

The Stamers added their own children to the list of NS graduates. Daughters, all future nurses: Sharon, 1961; Pat, 1965; Nancy, 1967; and son, Bill, 1969.

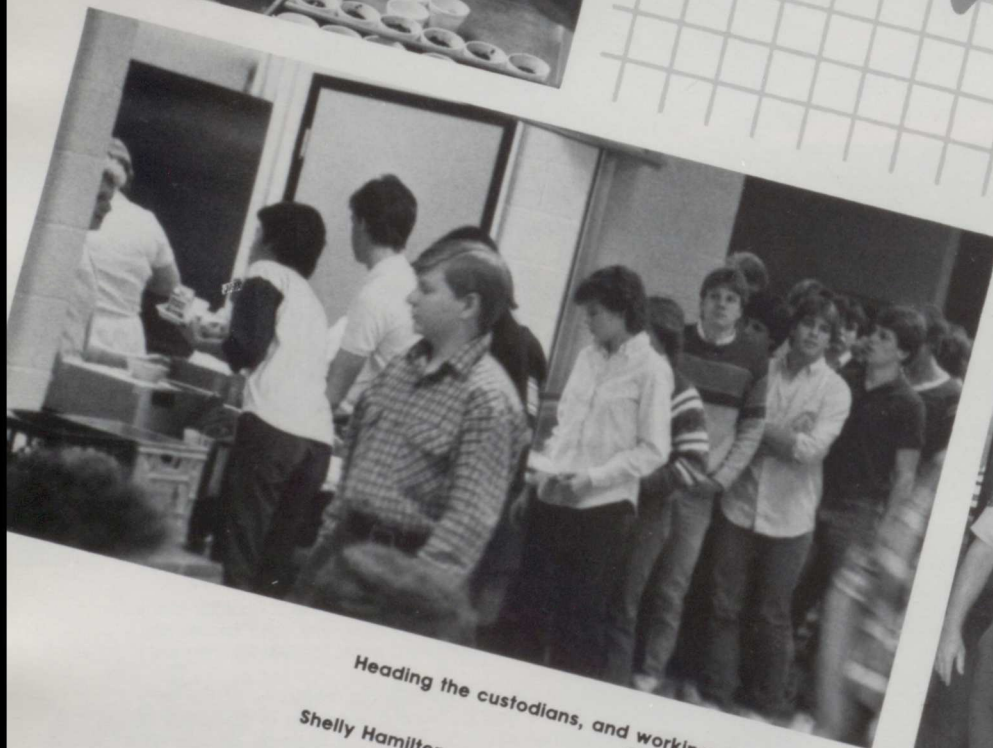

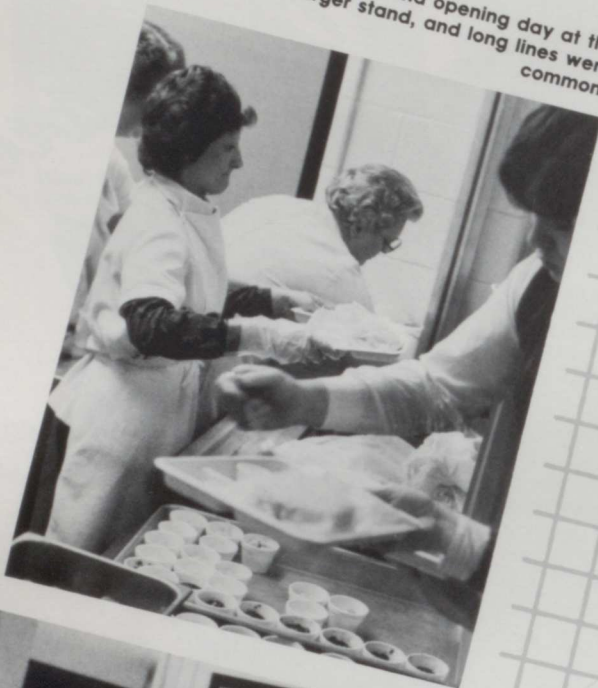

Mr. Stamer filmed football games for the school for many years, and the rashes, scabs, bumps, lice, and bruises Mrs. Stamer dealt with are memories to last forever for this year's grand marshal.

Over 3,000 students have friendly memories of the lady who gave a smile and perhaps a bandage or coldpack or called home when you were home sick to check on you. Her smile will be missed.

We dedicate this 1984 SHIELD to Mrs. Betty Stamer, R.N. More than a nurse, she is an example of what can result when you care.

Who is Really Making NS Run?

It was finally grand opening day at the Lancerburger stand, and long lines were common.

Heading the custodians, and working days are Jay Craft and Sadie Black. Shelly Hamilton and Phyllis Shannon serve hamburgers and fries off the new grill to waiting Lancers

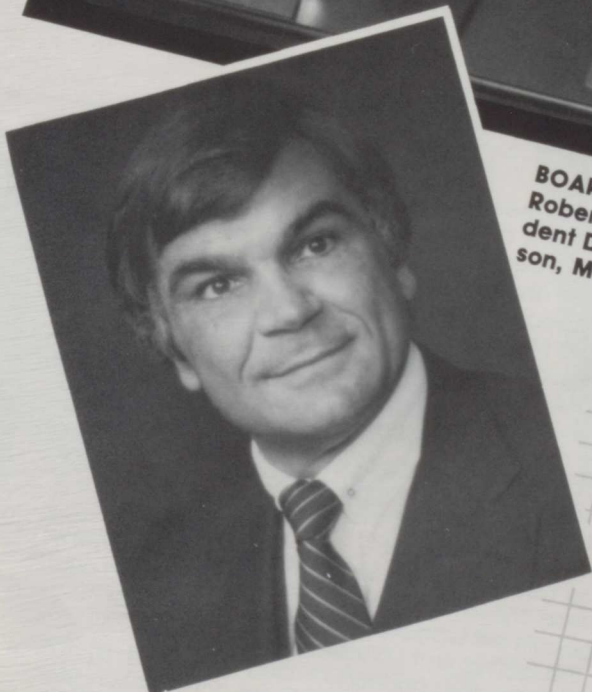

Beginning with the 'should we build a swimming pool?' question to the resignation of Dr. "Bear" Stevens to the installation of a new hamburger line to the sinking floor in the new auditorium it was a very continual question of 'Who is making NS run!'

Some important decisions are made by the Board of Directors at their bi-monthly Monday night meetings in the Administration Building. They did a study to see if taxpayers wanted a swimming pool and new music wing, but it 'went back to committee' when the reduction of teachers became evident because of the budget in the spring. The board also made our hamburger line possible. Led by President Jane Miles, many of their decisions made North Scott run a little smoother.

The daily running of North Scott is in the hands of the principals, secretaries, aids, teachers, student workers and the often unhailed custodians and cooks. Making over 700 lunches some days and working until 11:00 at night these workers make NS a nicer place to be. Led by Jay Craft, Lorraine Stender and Phyllis Shannon, these workers make a big difference!

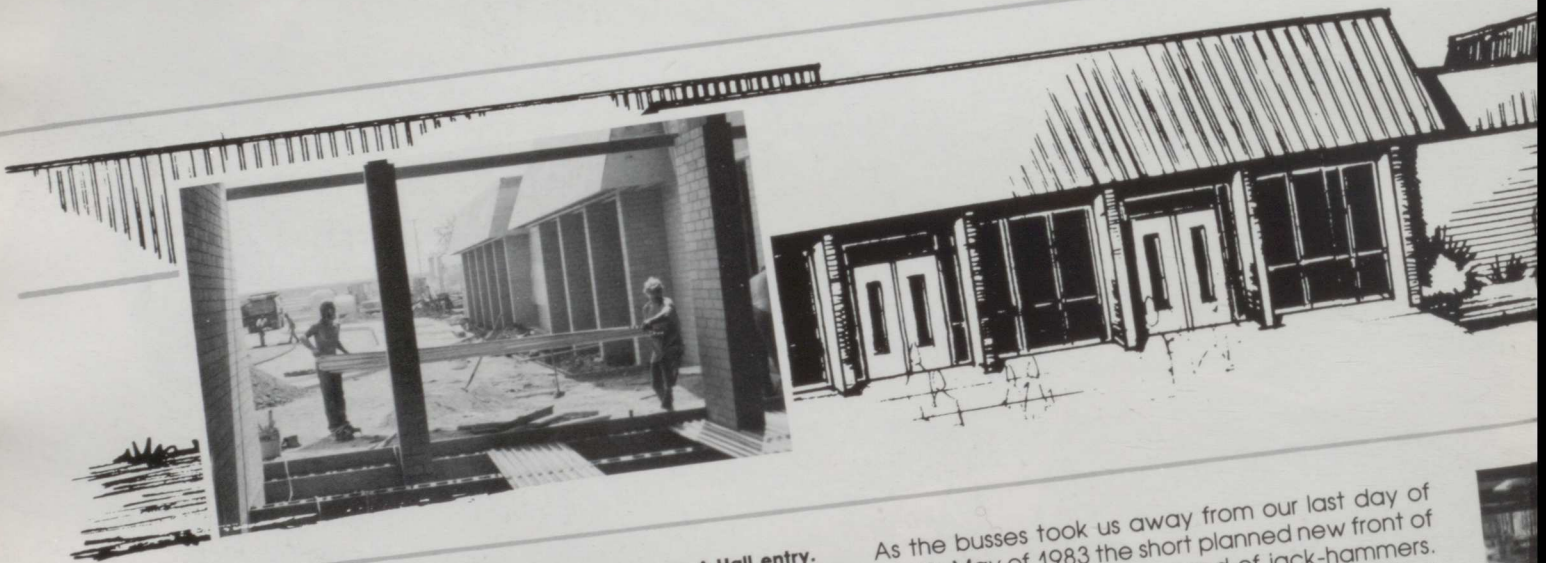

BOARD OF DIRECTORS: Secretary Debra Arrett, Superintendent Dr. Robert "Bear" Stevens, President Jane Miles, Assistant Superintendent Dr. Arnold Lindaman. ROW 2: Mr. Ned Mohr, Mr. Rex Master-son, Mr. Gus Youngberg, Mr. Rob Medd, Mrs. Kathy Porter.

Many HS Lancers were surprised and saddened by the resignation of our superintendent, Dr. Robert C. "Bear" Stevens. He brought a bright light to our district and will be taking his many talents to Glenbard, Illinois.

EVERYTHING IS UP FRONT

Summertime workers place flooring in the new A-Hall entry.

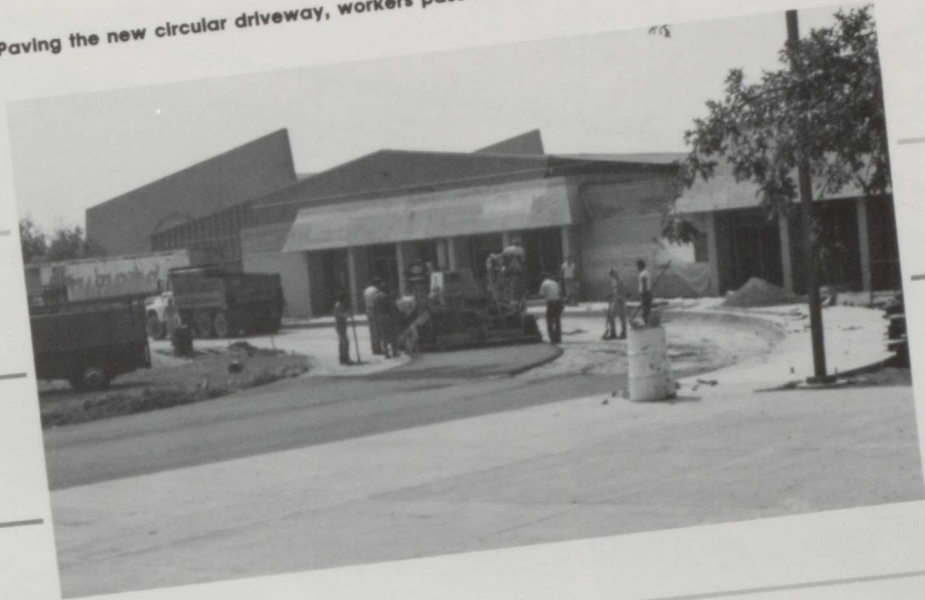

As the busses took us away from our last day of school in May of 1983 the short planned new front of our school began with the sound of jack-hammers. The noise and disruption was to continue until after our homecoming celebration. But when voters came to NS to vote, and basketball fans came to see a game, or when a parent came to see the principal, the effects of the bricklayers were more than evident!

Our new front extended into the building with a new concession and ticket lobby for "the pit" as well as a new classroom replacing one taken for guidance offices and a new office and conference room for our principal.

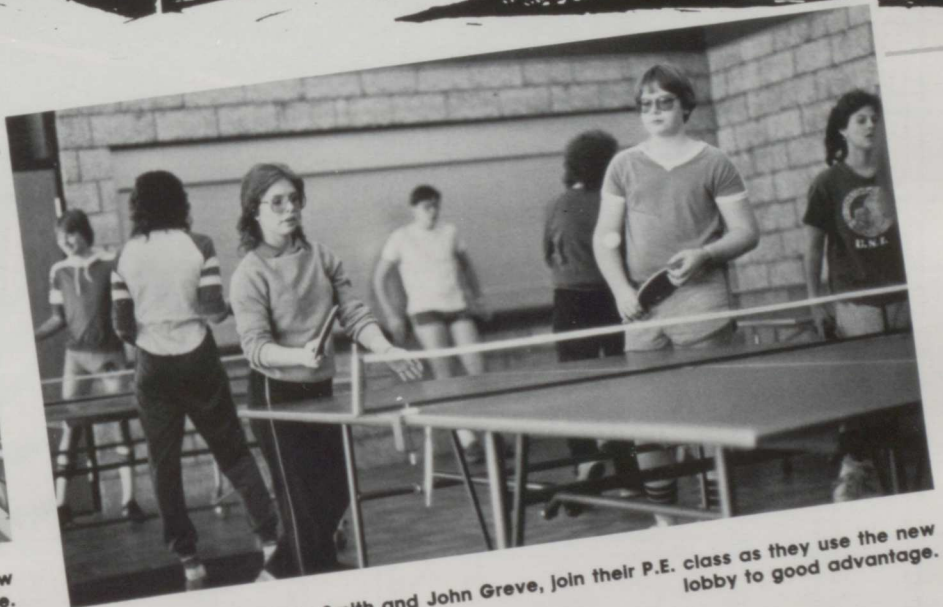

The new brick that was supposed to match the old was called "Camelot" brick by many, and a lot of people still wonder why the orange strip of cloth by the ceiling isn't Lancer red!

But now the auditorium and the front of the school match, and the months of construction give us room to wander, looking in the new trophy cases.

Paving the new circular driveway, workers pass the new doorframes and nearly finished roof.

Scaffolding fills the "old" outside doors as a new floor and walls begin to make a "new" inside.

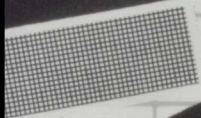

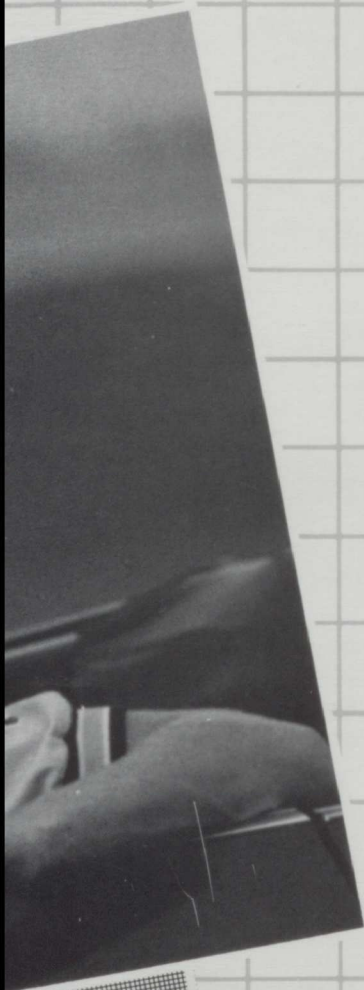

Ping pongers, Anita Smith and John Greve, join their P.E. class as they use the new lobby to good advantage.

During the homecoming parade senior Doug teDuits exemplified the patience and determination people needed at North Scott this year.

LANGUAGE ARTS: Practical Writing was added to the Language Arts curriculum this year with the introduction of the microcomputer for word processing. The class used Scholastic's Bank Street Writer on our Apple computers.

Work proceeded on the department's publication of student work. Eight students volunteered to edit the work advised by Mrs. Linda McClurg.

The annual NS Young Writer's Conference was held on Wednesday, April 4. The Young W.C. at Marycrest College sponsored by AREA 9 was on Tue May 8 featuring Paula Danzinger, author of The Cat Ate My Gysuit.

The staff again participated in professional organizations. Mr. Len Cockman was the editor of the Iowa Council of Teachers of English Newsletter and served on the board of The Mississippi Valley Council of Teachers of English and The National Council of Teachers of English.

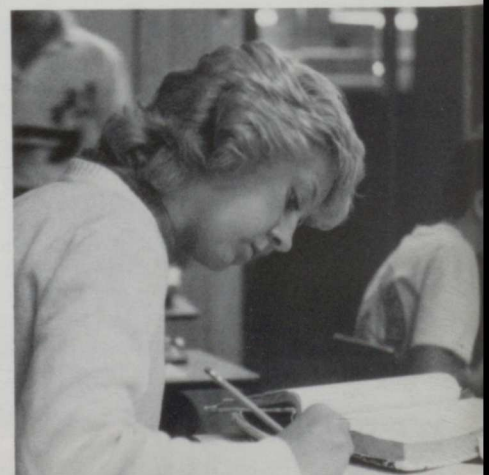

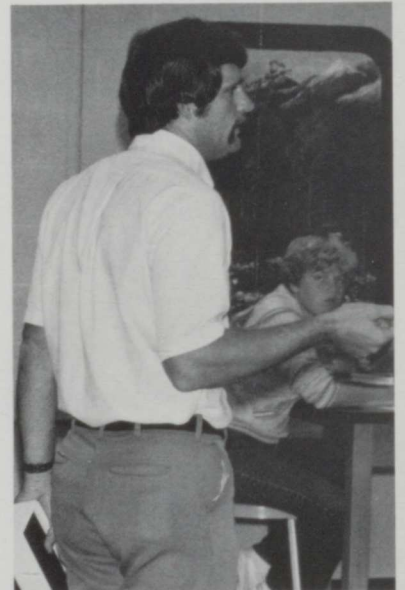

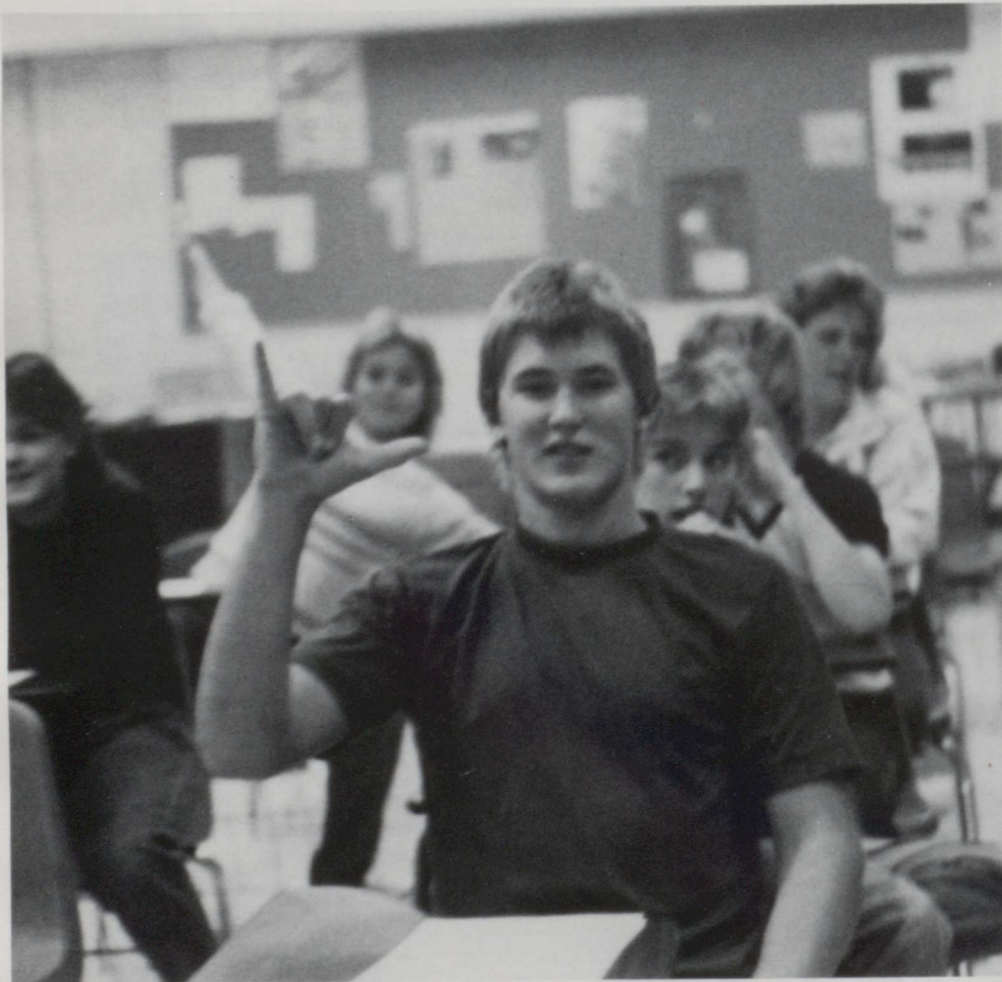

BUSINESS EDUCATION: OEA sponsored a sock-hop and sold boxed candy this year to earn money for the Employee-Employer Banquet in May, at which the OEA students thank their employers for that year. Wendy Krupa was named the Outstanding Business Education Student this year at NS. She was picked based on her grades, personal qualifications, accomplishments in extracurricular activities, community and church involvement and work experience. North Scott was fortunate to lease a new xerox 8400 copying machine which can collate staples and copy on both sides. This lease agreement saved money and made the work for both teachers and students easier.

MATH DEPARTMENT:

The Math Department his year replaced two teachers with Mr. Dean Birkhofer, who many students remembered from Junior High, and Mr. Dan Sheets. Mr. Robert Rhinehart taught Computer Programming II and Pre-Algebra class. A Pre-Algebra class was added this fall increasing the math enrollment to the highest its ever been. A student teacher this fall, Mr. Greg Stoltz, worked under Mrs. Kube and Mr. Voelkel.

Computer Programming II students traveled in early January to Scott Community College to observe an IBM presentation. Mr. Voelkel and Mr. Rhinehart attended the National Diffusion Network project "Using Computers in Teaching Secondary Mathematics". Mr. Howsare also co-authored a software review article published in Univ. of Iowa "Courseware Critique" and AEDS "Monitor".

On the lighter side of special events, all members of the math and computer department meet every second Thursday of the month to take turns serving breakfast.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT:

The enrollment in science classes, especially chemistry and physics, this year has increased greatly from past years. To help account for this problem, Mr. Merrick's room was remodeled. An extra lab table and fume hood were added to the room. During the summer, one of the walls in Mr. Moeller's room became the canvas for several 1983 graduates. They painted scenic views of the four seasons. In contradiction to all the new changes, Biology classes are still dissecting frogs, and pigs are still the Advanced Biology students' cadavers.

BIOLOGICAL SEASONS & BREAKFASTS

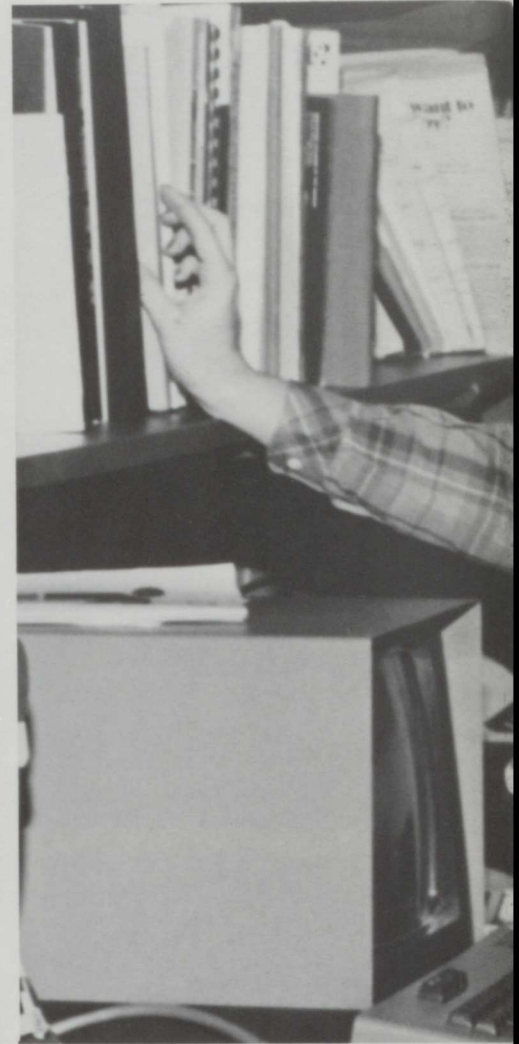

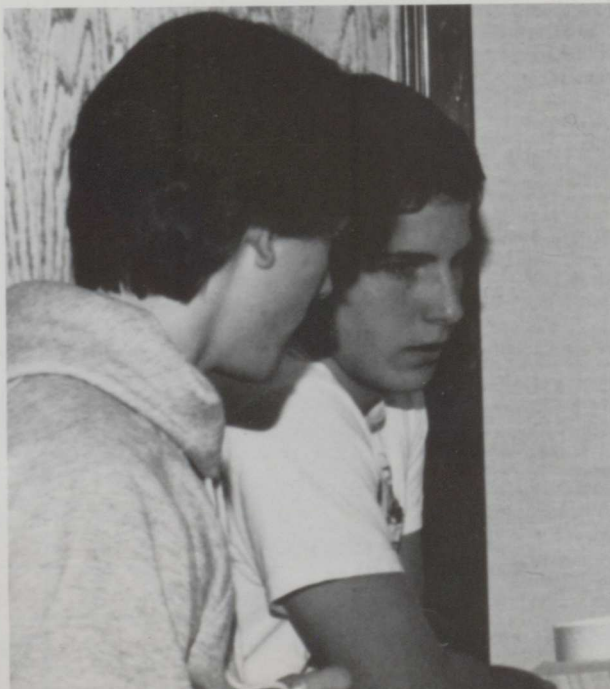

Revising a schedule for a student, Mr. Carroll Vis does the paperwork.

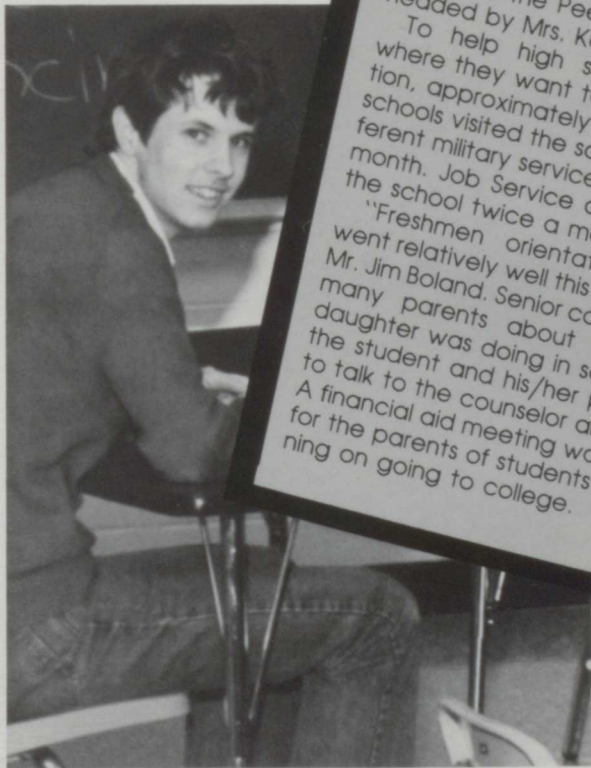

Visits from recruiters like U.S. Army Sergeant Konrady are answering questions of students like Francis Costello.

Waiting for an appointment in the new guidance office are Jim Skaala and Kevin McClung.

A studying Chris Dubiel is disturbed by a photographer.

SPECIAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT:

Wayne Morse's behavioral studies classes were moved this year to the addition off of D-hall. This move kept all the students together instead of having an isolated class across from the janitors' room.

This was the first year for Bill Rose as the full-time work experience coordinator. He found minimum wage jobs for about ten students, and exposed other students to various jobs.

SOCIAL STUDIES:

Thanks to the Scott County Bar Association, four lucky Juniors, along with other area high school students, were picked to help WOC film a mock criminal trial. Filmed March 10 for the t.v. show "Keeping Pace", the show enabled the students to, first-hand, learn the various facets of courtroom law by portraying jurors in a fake trial. The students, Janice Frazee, Matt Kuehl, Lisa Moeller, and Al Radcliffe who, besides learning valuable information about their government, also received an extra bonus by being on t.v.!

GUIDANCE:

In their new quarters in the old business education, old art room, the three counselors and their secretary, Mrs. Skaala, were very busy. This year, the counselors processed more than 2700 course changes. A new program to the school students this year was the Peer Helper Program. It was headed by Mrs. Kathy Howsare.

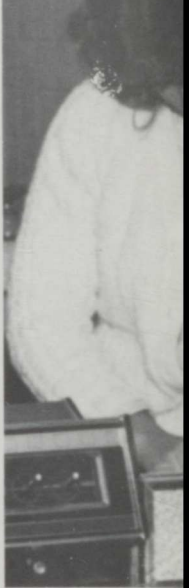

To help high school students choose where they want to continue their education, approximately 80 colleges and trade schools visited the school this year. Five different military services visit at least twice a month. Job Service of Iowa also came to the school twice a month.

"Freshmen orientation and guidance went relatively well this year", according to Mr. Jim Boland. Senior conferences informed many parents about how their son or daughter was doing in school. It also gave the student and his/her parents a chance to talk to the counselor about future plans. A financial aid meeting was held in January for the parents of students who were planning on going to college.

NEW OFFICES AND NEW PROGRAMS

With the art object in mind, Laurie Hepner sketches her impression.

Chef Kevin Kapinski demonstrates to Alex Anderson how to open a sandwich bag.

Dale Gronewold takes directions from Mr. Kirk Vandecar.

Tina Goettsch watches as Traci Conklin sews her hand.

Kathy Cole knows that cooking needs a lot of hard work.

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT offers courses in food and nutrition, clothing and textiles, child development, family life education and interior design. Consumer economics, management and career opportunities are included in each of the offered courses. Nearly one-fourth of the students taking these courses are boys which should continue to be a growing trend with the changes in society.

This year new textbooks and curriculum changes were studied in the Foods I, Foods II, Child Development and Family Living courses. Some computer software is being used in the foods courses. The trend has been to upgrade the courses to stress excellence in basic education as it is applied to home economics.

The teachers are active members of several professional organizations and attended local, state, and national meetings this past year.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS: The Industrial Arts Department, under the leadership of Mr. Dennis Olson, saw a few minor changes in their classes this year. All major changes have been put "on hold" because of the budget crunch.

Mr. Jack Dudley's advanced metal's class tackled mass producing fishing reels. The 300 steps with 78 pieces taught students the complexity of production with a worthwhile end.

Helping with the fishing reels was Mr. Harvey Perrine's drawing classes. They completed nearly 60 drawings for the production line.

Mr. Lynn Reth's woods classes finished their year with a complicated wall hanging with hinged mirrors and shelves. "It was an idea right out of the knick knock section of the JC Penny gift catalog!" said Mr. Reth.

DRIVERS EDUCATION DEPARTMENT:

The Drivers Education Dep't started the 1983-84 school year with a curriculum guide completed during the summer, a first for our district. A new book, Drive Right, met students enrolled in the class.

Mr. Bill McCoy and Mr. Chris Porter made presentations on insurance.

Mr. Ken Nevenhoven attended a state regional meeting in the Amana Colonies in October.

The snow hampered driving during the long, cold winter, but it did provide a lot of experience donut making.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE:

The traditional classes in this field are all ways changing according to its instructor Mr. Kieth Schmidt. Students still enjoy the mechanics and animal science areas, he says, but we have a stress of agricultural business. The areas of hedging futures and the livestock market are studied.

With productive agriculture waning in our area a new emphasis on horticultural agriculture will be seen in the coming years.

FINE ARTS DEPARTMENT:

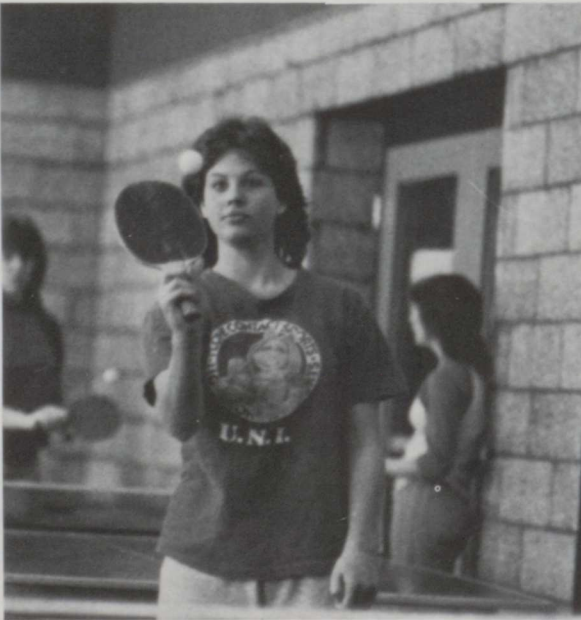

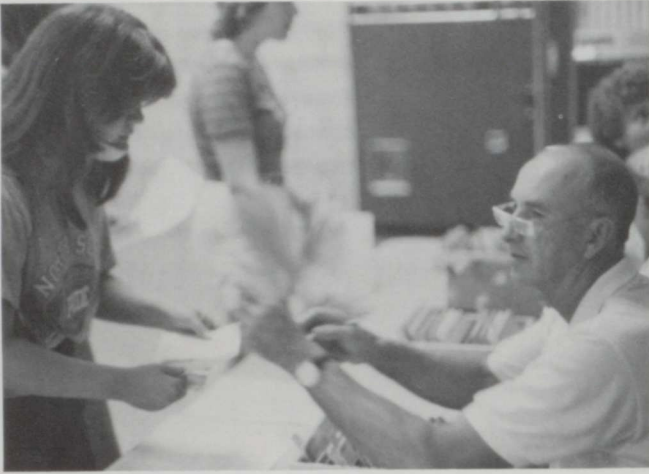

The academic side of music, art and performance continue to take a bigger part of student's schedules. Both North Scott Singers and Mixed Chorus were very large and enrollments will lead to a new chorus in the future, according to Mr. Keith Haan, vocal music instructor. Department chairman, Mr. Dan Anderson, notes the increase in offerings, especially in the art classes, as important steps North Scott has taken.

DRIVE RIGHT

These underclassmen exhibit the enthusiasm to start P.E..

Christine Blondell returns the ping pong ball to her opponent.

Curious, Jerry Cole glances into the next library room.

Craig Clark waits to check out.

Elaine Claude finds a magazine that is outrageously funny.

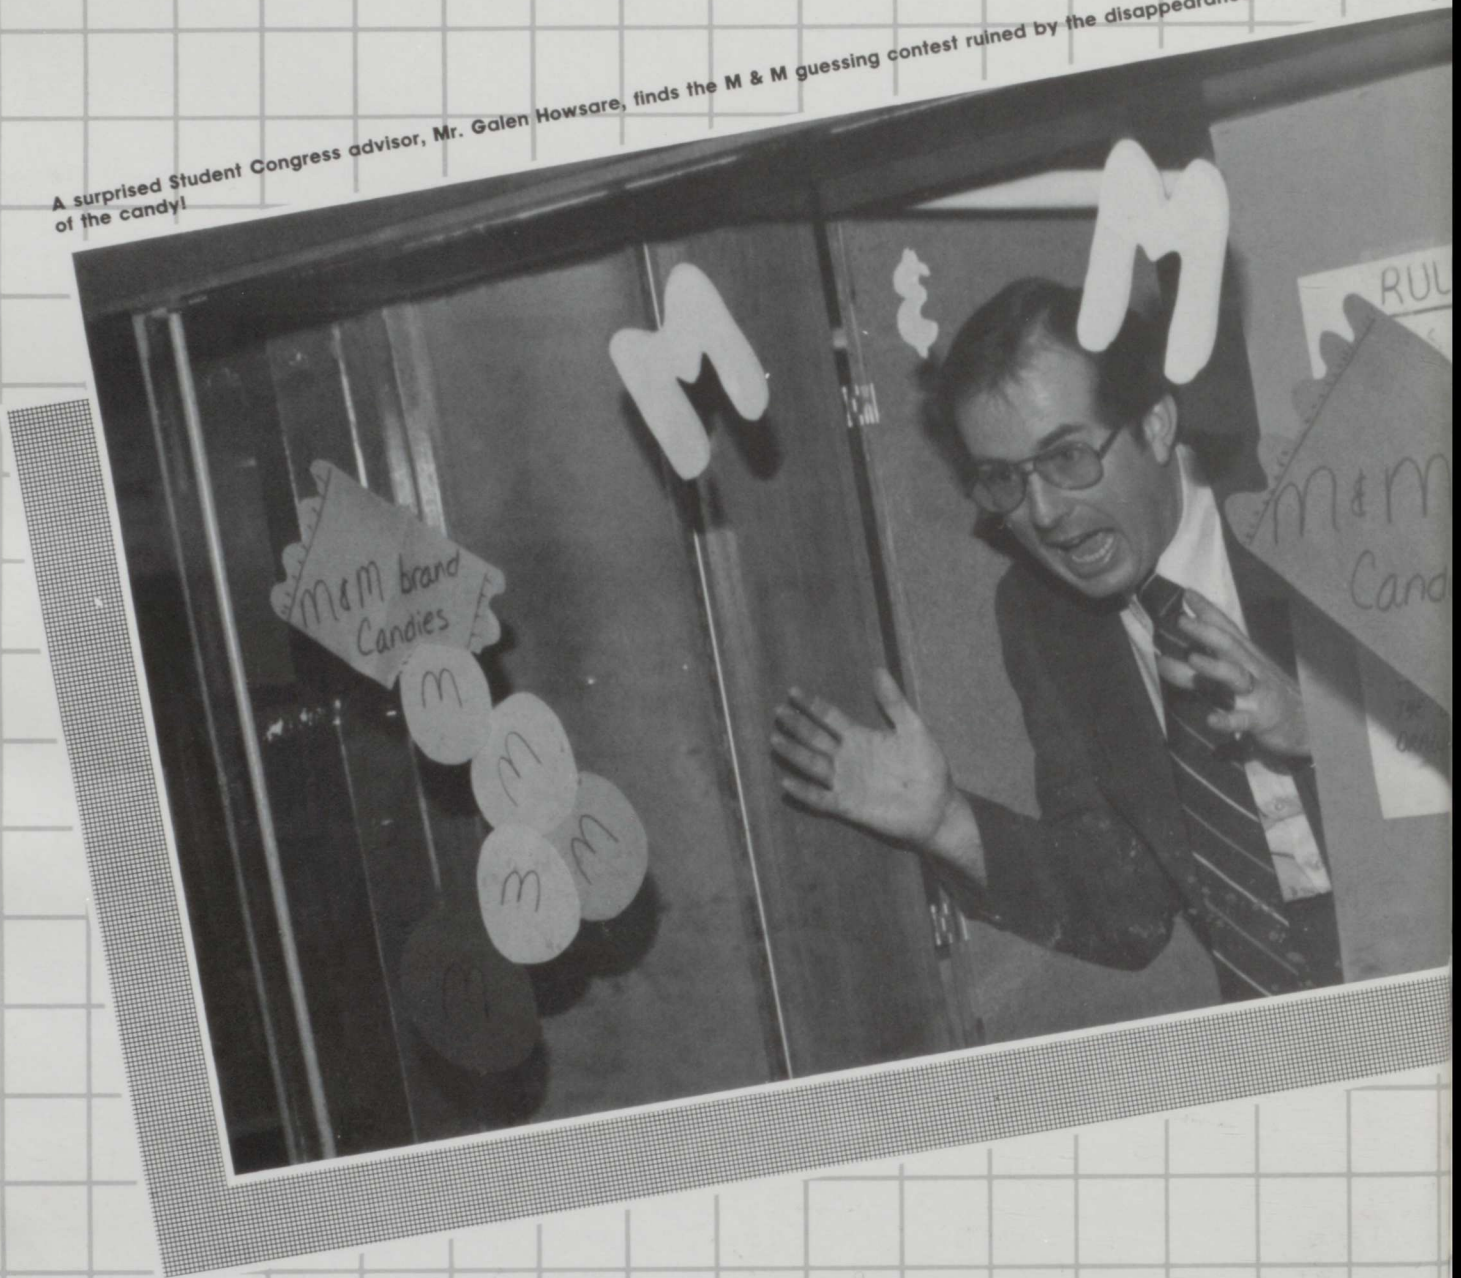

PHYSICAL EDUCATION: This department is now in its second year of a new curriculum where freshmen and sophomores participate in a series of required classes while juniors and seniors are allowed to select their courses. The intent of the new program is to provide a wide variety of skill-oriented classes to all freshmen and sophomores, to allow them to develop the needed interests and skills, and then to allow them to build on those foundations through their own selections at the junior and senior level.

INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS CENTER: The IMC is 76 feet by 76 feet or 5776 square feet in total area. It has 1200 biographies and 14,480 volumes. The first book donated to North Scott can still be found in the library. It was Masters of Deceit given in 1958 by the Scott County Sheriff. The IMC also has old yearbooks and school newspapers. They have purchased an IBM PCXT computer to store all of the library data. It will be ready to use in about five years. They have also developed a computer lab for students.

STUDENT CONGRESS: The '83-'84 Student Congress got off to a busy start in June with the setting of goals and preparing for the new school year. Also taking up much time and commitment was the final preparation for the 25th Homecoming which was a huge success, thanks to the support and dedication of the students, faculty, and community.

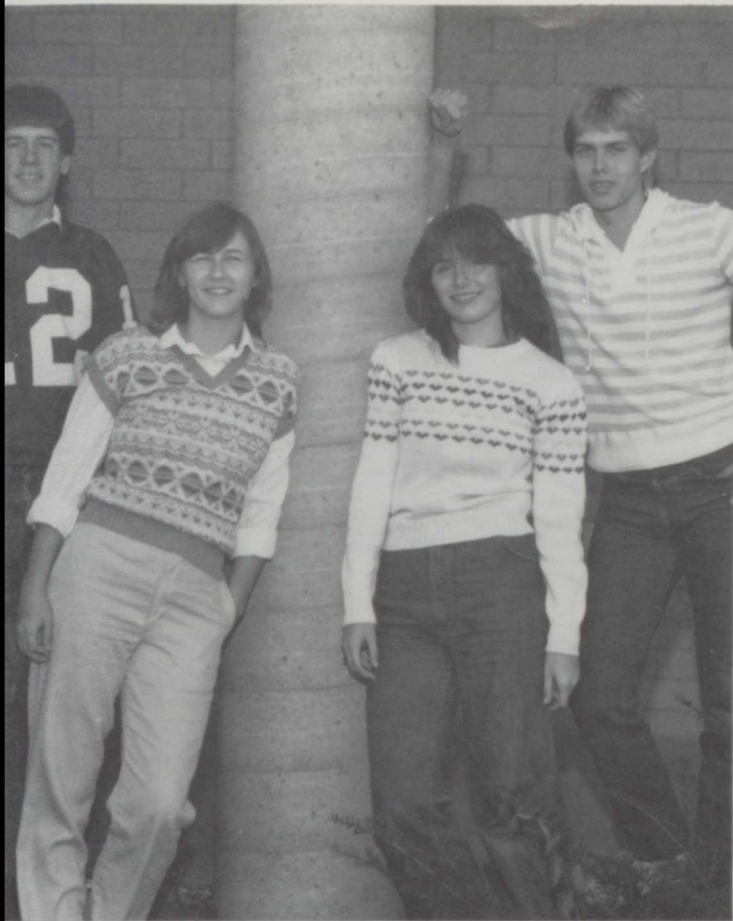

This year's goals centered basically around school spirit, service to the school and community, and keeping students and faculty informed of what S.C. was doing.

One of the more exciting accomplishments of the year was the installation of the stereo in the commons-also ranking up there were the new events of "New Student Luncheon", adopting an orphan, "Can Your Class Week", "Lance Sound-off", spring cleanup, and the publishing of S.C. meeting minutes to the faculty and "The Lance".

The '83-'84 Student Congress had a fulfilling year and was able to meet its goals through the hard work and dedication of the officers, members, and advisor.

National Honor Society will hold its annual banquet this spring to induct new members, and to say goodbye to graduating scholars. Over the past summer, Society members painted house numbers on street curbs in Eldridge as part of a community project.

Current officers are Rachel Bohlmann, president, John Feyen, vice-president, Stacy Braack, secretary, and Brad Birtell, treasurer.

The North Scott Honor Society Chapter will continue to be a goal of all students who want to achieve high marks, and are involved in school activities, and in other worlds, earn this honor.

OEA sponsored a sock-hop and sold boxed candy this year to earn money for the Employee-Employer banquet in May at which the OEA students thanked their employers for that year.

ART CLUB: B. Tank, W. White, J. Osterberg

ART CLUB: Art Club had a busy spring. In March, they attended the Marycrest Fine Arts Festival where they had many projects entered. The members who participated were volunteers, and were talented enough to receive some awards!

Every two years, a group of Art Club members trek to Chicago to visit the Chicago Art Institute and Field Museum. In March, about 45 kids toured the famous museums during a schoolday.

The purpose of Art Club is to expand the students knowledge of art. This year definitely aided that experience.

OFFICE WORKERS: Each period of the day the office is staffed with student help to ease the work load of the secretaries. Picking up attendance cards is the biggest chore, but they also type, file and a thousand other little things.

Each afternoon Lori Paustian works in the office as part of her Office Education program. Her responsibilities include answering the telephone, making change, typing daily announcements and tending the front counter.

The office workers add a great help to the office and are appreciated by the secretaries.

LIBRARY WORKERS: Mr. Quentin Coffman and his 12 library workers certainly know how to have a good time. They had a Halloween and Christmas party, and also an end of the year celebration.

For this year's Halloween party, they bobbed for apples and told ghost stories. They played "Pin the Mustache on the Vampire" instead of the original "Pin the Tail on the Donkey".

They had a traditional Christmas party, which included exchanging presents. All in all, they had lots of fun and helped the Library a great deal.

THE FELLOWSHIP OF CHRISTIAN ATHLETES: FCA gives students the opportunity to get together to discuss problems and their feelings about Christianity without necessarily being involved in athletics. The group met on Monday evenings to view movies, presentations and guest speakers. Projects headed by FCA included football field clean-up, candy sales, and the annual retreat to Marshalltown. Officers for 1983-4 were: Steve Ryan and Carmen Horsfield, Cohuddle Leaders; Jeff Schatz, Social Chairman; Dave DeBoer, Music Chairman; and Rachel Bohlmann, Treasurer. Their advisors were directed by Mr. Delmar Ryan.

SPANISH CLUB: Community awareness is one goal that Spanish Club has been working to attain: such as the Annual Spanish Pot-luck supper held every Spring during Foreign Language Week where the community as well as anyone in Spanish is welcome. We are also interested in getting the students who are involved in Spanish club exposed to the Spanish culture. Every year, we take the club to a different Mexican Restaurant in the Quad Cities. This exposes them to a little part of the culture. And of course, the major exposure we work to attain is the trip to Mexico. Those who go find the trip a pleasant surprise from the typical image of Mexico as they visit the capital, Mexico City. Another highlight is going to Acapulco.

Throughout the year, Spanish Club is busy with sales (for the Mexico trip), the annual Valentine's Day Carnation Sales, and Foreign Language Week.

JUNIOR ACHIEVEMENT: Junior achievement was a mixture of two companies last semester, Lancer Achievement Productions, and BAJA, short for Business Associates in Junior Achievement.

These two companies, consisting of 15-20 students along with at least four adult advisors met once weekly on Monday from 6:30 to 9:00, to work, figure finances, and to learn to cooperate with other members and counselors.

Lancer Achievements Productions managed to produce some Iowa keyholder plaques, windchimes, rock key-holders, witty rock, and safety lights among many other products.

BAJA then turned out Hawkeye pen-sets, Hawkeye key-holders, one-of-a-kind combs, fuzzy love bugs, and also Illini products for the Southpark fair.

In October, both J.A. companies went to Southpark taking all products made up until then.

Volume twenty-five of the Lance reported the events of the year, covering the celebration of North Scott's twenty-fifth homecoming, proposed changes in self-scheduling, moving athletics out of the school day, the removal of the senior bench, and the resignations of a superintendent and football coaches.

Features topics ranged from males wearing earrings, the five-year plan PDA (Public Display of Affection), organ donation, and reviews of rock videos. The paper always tried to have something of interest for all students.

The paper itself went through physical changes including a switch back from Old English to a more modern nameplate and a smaller type size, which meant more copy went into each issue than ever before.

The 1984 Shield began in Des Moines at Drake University during a summer journalism workshop. Fall brought the distribution of the Silver Shield and our 25th Birthday Party sponsored by the staff. The hours spent during the winter never seemed to be enough to get material ready to meet deadlines and the question of the books arriving in May was always unanswered until May.

With her fingers on the keys, Sandy Loeffelholz types for the Shield.

A common sight this year was seeing people tugging along a box of candy bars. Chances are, some of those people were Close-Up members. Besides selling candy, they sponsored bake sales, sock hops, and even a Haunted House, earning enough money to get 10 lucky students off to Washington, D.C., April 8-14. The students, C. Peterson, K. Pittman, K. Kirby, A. Stauffer, M. McDonald, J. Frazee, S. Abbas, B. Brown, L. Petersen, and C. Seyfried, were chaperoned by Mr. Gary Olson.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA: After their 25th anniversary celebration, the North Scott FFA Chapter is back to business as usual. The department has had only two different instructors in its 25 years of existence. Keith Schmidt started the Department/Chapter in the summer of 1958 and continued for seven years until 1966 when Bill Marsh took over advisor/instructor duties for seven years. At this time Mr. Schmidt returned as department head and has remained since the summer of 1972.

The department continues to produce farmers and agribusiness leaders through their on-the-job training programs and leadership activities. The Department has produced nearly 20 "Iowa Farmers", 2 District "Star Farmers" and one "American Farmer". Production Agriculture has been the major area taught, however recently, Agri-business training has also been included for both young men and women who wish to enroll.

LANCERS PRODUCTIONS: Lancer Productions started this year with the annual get acquainted pot-luck. This was followed by the decision to move meetings from the evenings to right after school once a month on Thursdays. The meetings were brightened by a number of short humorous skits performed by the officers throughout the year. It was decided at one of the early meetings to use the profits of the years candy bar sales to have a larger trophy case built to display all the many trophies won.

Lancer Productions takes many trips during the year, two which were attended were the performance of "Three Penny Opera" at the University of Iowa on October 20, 1983, and the musical "Pinnocchio" at Circa '21 in Rock Island on December 5, 1983.

Everyone realizes this year's HC was a special one, but it was even more of a historic extravaganza for Marching Band. For the first time, they walked through a HC Parade instead of the easy way out, riding a wagon. And on HC game night, they debuted their flashy outfits and flags. Each band member will attest to the fact that they came too close to not being able to wear their new hats: the plane shipment from St. Louis arrived at 6:00, which left only an hour to transport them here!

CONCERT BAND: Mr. Anderson and Mr. Kessinger keep the North Scott Symphonic and Concert Bands hopping all year, and they like it that way. Because of their dedication and hard work, North Scott has a band program it can be proud of, as well as the resources to uphold this awesome tradition.

Beginning at the end of football season, Mr. Anderson and Mr. Kessinger get cracking and whip the two bands into shape for the Winter Concert in early December. Following the well-deserved Christmas break, Local Solo contest rolls around in mid-February, followed quickly by the Spring Concert at the end of that month.

March is slightly slower for most band members, having only one contest, State Solo and Ensemble Contest to prepare for. North Scott traditionally has a fine showing at this contest, being awarded 1's to almost half the ensembles and solos.

April and May finish in a flurry of notes with the Tri-School Band Festival, IMSMA Large Group Contest, the Senior Music Salute, the Fine Arts Festival, the Music Boosters Awards Potluck and Commencement.

North Scott Band members, even with their busy year, have a lot of pride in being Lancers. This is made evident in their rabble-raising presence at basketball games in the Pep Band, and in the many other honor bands that Lancer Band Members are selected for including All-State, SEIBA, Augustana, and Quad City Honor Bands. Additionally, in May, 1983, the whole Symphonic Band was selected from high school bands across Iowa to play for the band directors at the Iowa Bandmasters Association in Des Moines.

JAZZ BAND: Starting from a solid background of concert band style and knowledge, the North Scott Jazz Program is well-known for its tight ensemble, brazy style, and "awesome" soloists.

The two bands debut concert for the year was in mid-November. Quickly following was the prestigious Augustana Jazz Contest and Festival, where the Stage Band, under the direction of Bill Kessinger, played in exhibition, and the Jazz Ensemble, under the direction of Dan Anderson, placed second.

After Christmas the Northern Illinois University Jazz Band, under the direction of Dan Modell, and its guest soloist, reed player James Moody, arrived at North Scott and gave an afternoon clinic and evening performance. What a band!

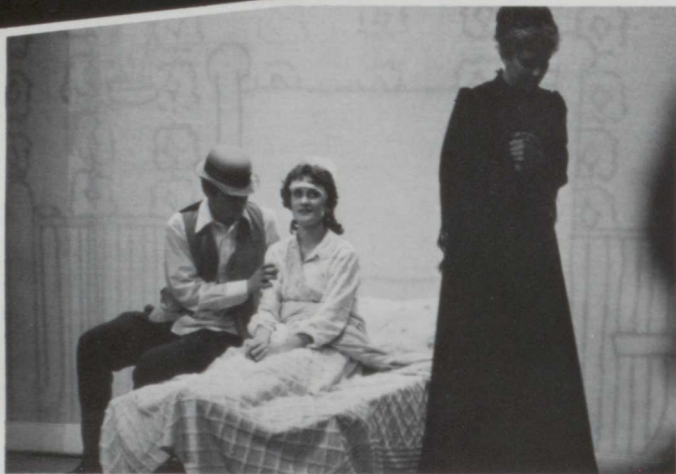

March 3 is the date for the jazz band's next major contest, the Washington Jazz Ensemble Festival, in Washington, Iowa. A first place rating here and the Jazz Ensemble will go to State for the sixth straight year.

The excitement stays high as the next weekend is Swing Show '84, with the Stage Band playing warm up band and the Jazz Ensemble in the show. Following is a month inbetween Swing Show and State Jazz Contest, April 19. The last event in the jazz year is auditions for next years spots, which include the eighth graders going to be freshmen next fall.

The year always proves exciting, all the work and effort culminating at the State Contest. But, win or lose, North Scott Jazz is always one of the best.

When Mr. Harlan Vander Vinne walked out and took his place at the piano, the audience knew it was the pre-prohibition time of the 1890's and we were about to spend TEN NIGHTS IN A BARROOM.

Centering around the people of Cedarville, the effects of a new bar had many outcomes. It examined the devastating effects of alcohol. Broken homes, broken hearts, and broken lives were portrayed in the plot.

Between scenes the audience was treated to unexpected entertainment. People in the cast performed oleos. Some sang, some danced, and some gave oral interpretations.

Directing the melodrama was Mrs. Judith Jacobs assisted by Frank Whitmore. Choreographing the dances was Tonia Abbott. Lisa Moeller was the student director. The musical director was Harlan Vander Vinne and Rick Moeller was the technical director. Diane Hall was the business manager. All of these people deserve recognition for the final outcome: TEN NIGHTS IN A BARROOM.

Kon Knapper creates inebriated Sample Switchel.

Clutching a teddy bear, Shane Cline performs SUPPLANTED.

This year the North Scott Drama group has attended 11 speech contests. They vary from humorous interpretations to debate to Original Oratory. The University of Iowa hosted Colloquy on November 5, where Lisa Moeller placed fifth and Reader's Theater placed third. One Act, Choral Readers, and Reader's Theater received I ratings at District Large Group Contest.

When we went to Districts we had to be here at 5:00. The tournament was in Fort Madison, which is around a three hour drive. It took us even longer because we started going to Fort Dodge. All three groups received I ratings and the ride home was really fun. Some of us punked out and scared some people to death.

State was a little better. We only left at 10:00 and it was only an hour away. Again, all three groups received I's. Reader's Theater got straight I's, while One Act and Choral Readers got I's and II.

After hours of practice, Mrs. Farrel and Mrs. Jacobs were both satisfied with the results.

SODA POP'ERS: Yvonne Bush, Colleen Bulazo, Robin Cline, Kathy Corbin, DeAnna Crotty, Rene Johnson, Jeff Fairweather, Kyle Hall, Brian Holtz, Todd Konrad, Todd Schwartz, Rick Splinter.

With their songs and dances, Rene Johnson and Brian Holtz entertained the audience.

Sitting on her throne, Nancy Rathjen presides over her court.

Lynne Chapman shows her true feelings in a song.

Janice Frazee holds on to Ron Knapper as the court surrounds them.

The ladies try to help Lynne Chapman with her problems.

With his guitar in hand, Mike Kraklio serenades the audience.

In Medieval times there was a Prince Dauntless. He had to find a wife before anyone else could be married. The entire court was anxious for him to marry because of this. The only problem was Queen Aggravaine, Prince Dauntless' mother. Nobody is good enough for her son. She prepared tests for the suiters that could not be passed.

One day Princess Winnifred, the Woebegone, arrived at the castle. The entire court tried to get them married. Of course, like all stories, this had a happy ending. Prince Dauntless married Princess Winnifred and lived happily ever after.

Before the play began, the audience saw the Soda Pop'ers perform. The group sang and danced to music such as "Once Upon a Dream" and "Someday My Prince Will Come". Mike Kraklio directed them.

The play was directed by Mrs. Judith Jacobs with Mr. Keith Haan as musical director. Mr. Harvey Perrine was the technical director and Mrs. Cindy May choreographed the dances. Frank Whitmore and Todd Schwartz were the student directors. The dinner was prepared under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hall.

FROM "HAPPY BIRTHDAY" WE SING TO MESSIAH

NORTH SCOTT SINGERS: The 60 members of North Scott Singers had a busy year. On October 15, Singers entertained Representative Jim Leach at the Davenport Holidome and sang a special rendition of "Happy Birthday" to celebrate his birthday. They performed their first concert, the Fall Concert, on October 23. In November, the All State Music Festival was held in Ames, at which Wendy Krupa, alto, Mike Kraklio, tenor, and Renee Johnson, Soprano sang. In December the choir performed at the Winter Concert. April and May were hectic months. They entertained at the Spring Vocal Concert, the North Scott Choral Festival of Messiah in April, and sang at the State Large Group Contest and the Fine Arts Festival in May. Overall, it was an exciting year.

Mike Kraklio and Randy Mizaur come down with a contagious itch.

Yvonne Bush fishes around for the right note.

While Eugene Kreiter sings to his "audience", Lynn Downs and Kenny Knapper depend on the sheet music for the notes.

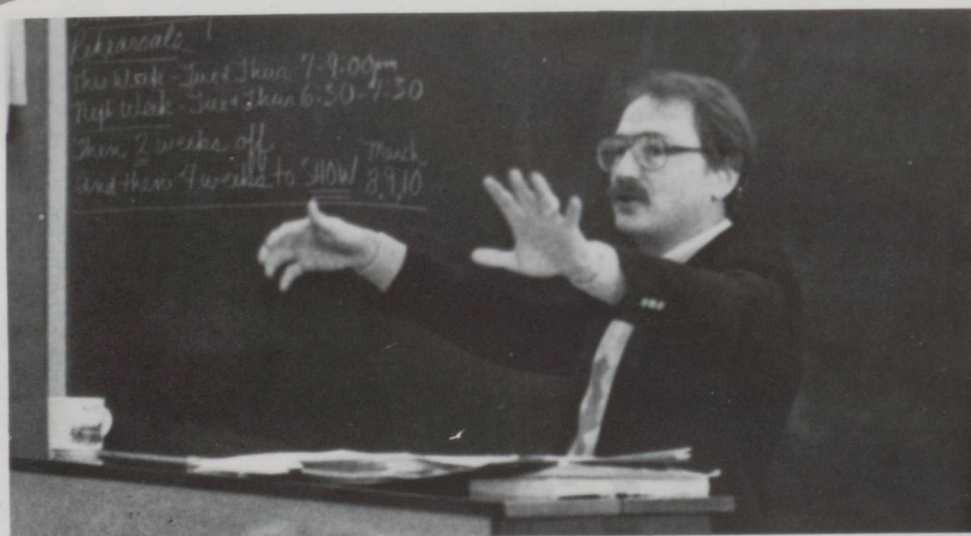

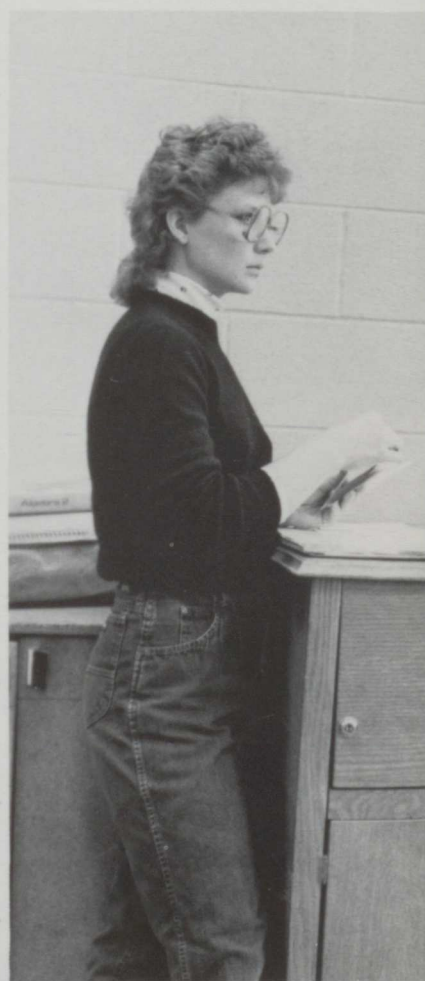

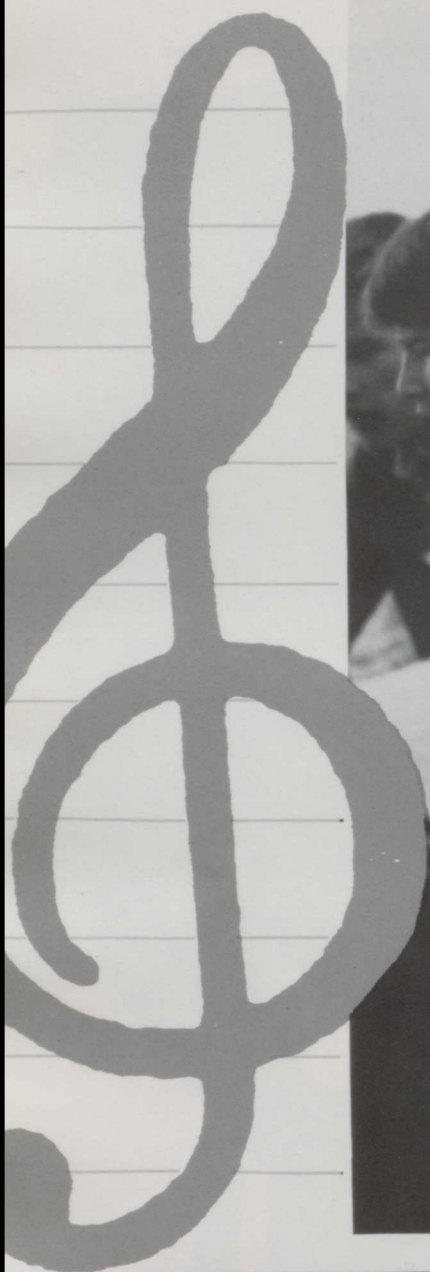

Yvonne Bush, Becky Noel, and Stacey Swank solemnly sing the "Death March."

Craig Clark and Cliff Hansen stretch for that first note.

Mary Saskowski rejoices in alto harmony.

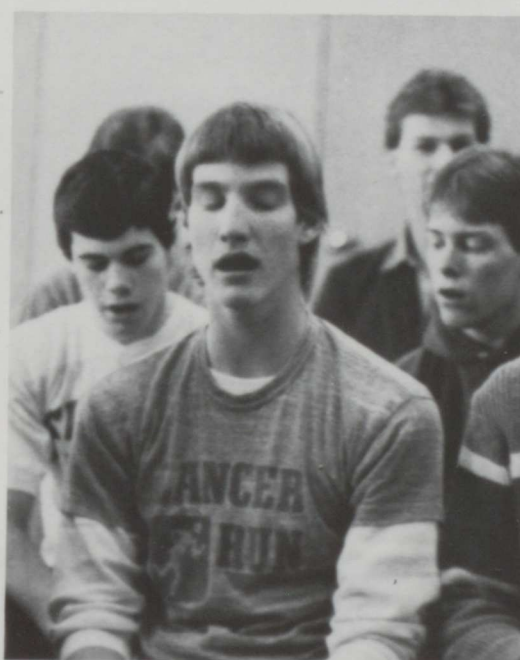

Mr. Haan motions the choir to a crescendo.

Nancy Stoltenberg scans the choir for absentees.

MIXED CHORUS: T. Puls, [redacted], T. Eudaley, S. Mailen, D. Hickie, S. Lindle, B. Holtz, J. Fairweather, J. Frajman, R. Swanson, J. Quigley, C. Bulazo, K. Larssen, D. Kaczinski. Row 2: V. Dave Iseminger, flanked by Jeff Fairweather and Eugene Kreiter, struggles with a low note.

MIXED CHORUS: Mixed chorus debuts along with NS Singers each year at the Fall Vocal Concert held in October, and then the 60 members have about 2 months to find tunes for their Christmas songs for the winter concert, December 11. The highlight of that concert is the candle processional of the combined choruses singing "Beautiful Savior". On April 1, the spring concert was presented and on May 14 and 15, the Fine Arts Festival was held, at which they sang. To end the year, they headed off to Large Group Contest in May and received good ratings.

The Girls' Cross Country team had a fine season ending with a 9th place finish at state. The team was led by Wendy Bare taking 14th place overall. Her teammate Kim Schneckloth was close behind, finishing in the 28th slot. Schneckloth also took the honor of MVP from her teammates. The girls took over the Marion Invitational grabbing a blue ribbon. They also finished second in the conference and third at districts to move them to the state meet.

Sara Albrecht sits back and awaits a finish.

Dashing along at Rustic Ridge, the girl's cross country gets in shape.

Richlen, Lorenz and Richlen endure the heat of the course.

DISTANCE RUNNERS: K. Schneckloth, W. Bare, T. Long, C. Rosmilso, M. Heicker, C. Noel, L. Hemm, C. Bush, and Coach Johnson.

On one of those warm August mornings eighteen high school runners awaited the arrival of their coach.

This was the way cross country started at North Scott. There were eighteen at the first practice. Only seven were at the last meet. Some high points included a second place finish at the Marion City Invitational, third at the Tipton Invitational, and North Scott's win over PV.

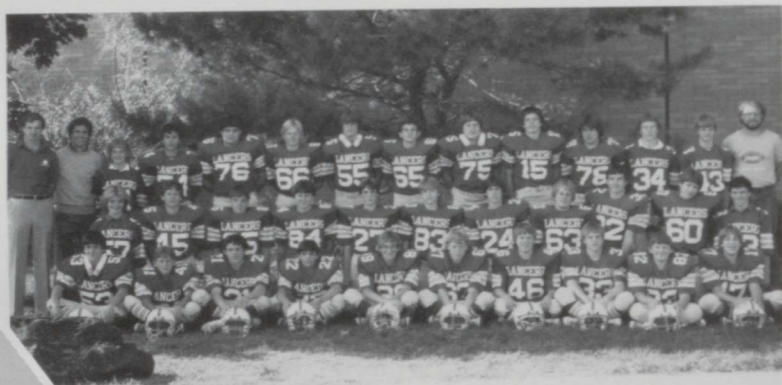

Seven of North Scott's varsity runners made their way to the District meet in hope of state. Kendel Richlen was the only member that came close. He placed seventh, only five tenths of a second behind the sixth place runner.

Wallace sets records

The Freshman Boys' Football team ended a successful season with a 5-1-1 record. Under coach Jeff Newmeister our only defeat went to Assumption. The reserve squad had a record of 1-0 creating an overall mark of 6-1-1. Running back Jeff Wallace ran for 214 yards after catching a 25 yard pass for a total of 239 yards for the Lancer record.

John Fury grabs his opponent's arm.

Matt Goode and Bob Ertz relax after their match.

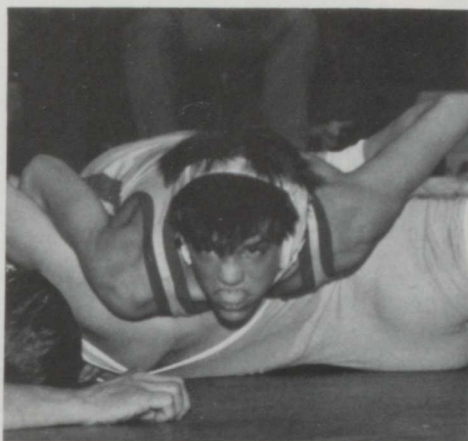

The North Scott Varsity Wrestlers have finished their finest season ever in preparation for the State Tournament held February 23-25. Losing only to Bettendorf, first ranked in the state, and west, the grapplers conclude the season with a final tally of 5-2.

Eugene Krieter, with a 20-1 record, earned a state rank of 5th. Teammate Clint Long also lead the Lancers with a record of 15-4-1.

Voice straining Karen Carstensen leads the cheering crowd.

Emassed for a pep aud, the squads make quite a display in the pit!

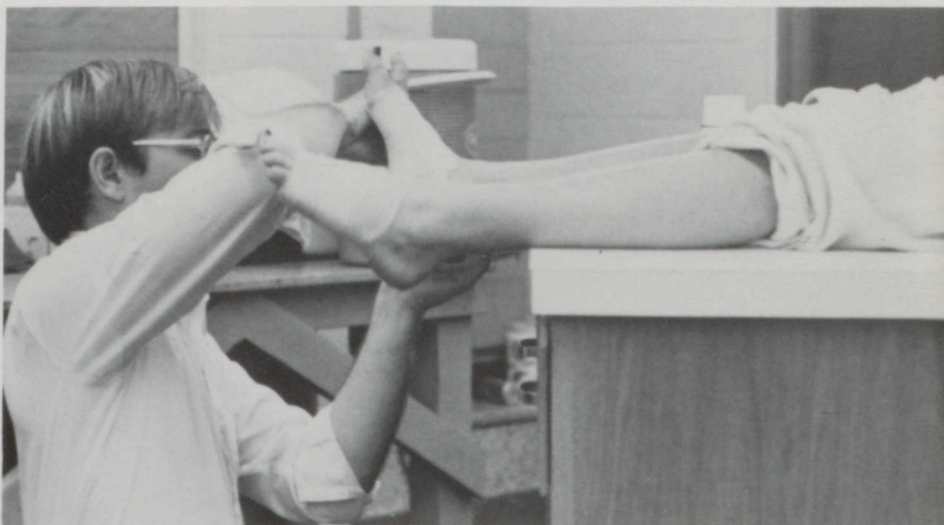

These 39 girls aren't cheerleaders from just August to May. They worked long and hard before school started to reacquaint themselves with the crowd-rousing moves of a limber leader and some even attended Cheerleading camps during the summer. Last July, 9 cheerleaders spent 5 days at the International Cheerleading Foundations Camp at the University of Northern Iowa. Overall, they captured 10 ribbons from other junior-varsity units and was chosen to cheer in the grand champion competition and won 2nd place in their division!

Besides cheering at auds and sport meets, the girls sold red and grey striped "spirit sticks" for 25¢ as a fundraiser and on November 12 staged the first North Scott Cheerleading Clinic for grades 5-8. Mrs. Tori Slotterback organized the girls until her maternity leave.

Doc's Wrappers SHAPE 'EM UP!

NS is lucky to have "Doc" Vanderheiden available at almost any hour to wrap up a case.

Secluded in a storage room Traci Woomert spends a few minutes keeping track of her hours spent in the training room.

Using a training room table and a heating pad is Brad Birtell anticipating a long practice.

Trainers Wanda Ranson and Kristi Musal discuss the wrap on Kim Reese's foot.

Tammy Sebolt's eyes widen as she discovers how much time she and Deb Ranson have worked.

Deb Ranson puts a load of clothes to wash.

TRAINERS: Mr. Vanderheiden, T. Willis, L. Tyra, P. Haase, W. Ranson, T. Woomert, D. Newton, J. Moore, T. Sebolt, S. Kelly, K. Wells, D. Ranson.

If you're thinking about becoming a trainer, be prepared! It's more work than most people think. Doc says there are basically 10 trainers. Those ten people work everyday, including Sunday if there was a game Saturday. On some days they're here until midnight washing clothes and cleaning up.

He interviews them in the summer and makes his choices. They then come in for a training session. In this session they learn how to tape ankles, wrap knees, give general first aid, and how to handle the basic hassles. As you can see, being a trainer isn't just meeting the football or volleyball teams. It is really hard work.

Early morning eyes add to Doug Lamont's wind-blown Ocean Pacific look.

Friends Glen Blacklock and Rob Smerillo share injuries and other assorted tales.

Tackling his fair share, Mr. Keith Benjamin "bites".

Assembly smiles of John Feyen and Coach Gary Olson before the pigskin battle begins.

Persistent Dean Brabant maneuvers the auditorium stairs rather than take the elevator.

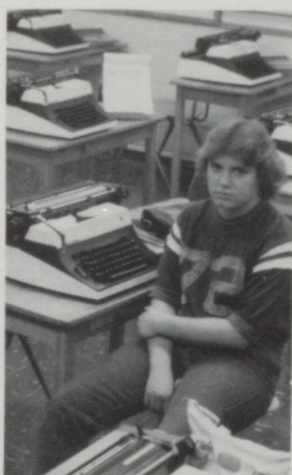

Mesmerized by a conversation, Tracy Holdorf listens.

Jesting Kyle Hall battles with an unidentified musician.

When faculty McClurg, Coffman and Howsare meet in the hall there might be a little merriment.

Happy to sit down, Tina Belk awaits the joy of another timed typing.

This 26th Volume of THE SHIELD would not be possible without the support of many. The continued generosity of the North Scott business community is again in our debt. The parents who came through have helped make 1983-84 a year to remember. THANK YOU to those who made it special.

Index

was 24 years old when North Scott High School was opened. The friendly people at CTS were already serving the community with banking needs. Just as North Scott has grown, so has CTS. With help for students, parents, businesses, and the farmers of the area, Central Trust and Savings Bank has been a community supporter and leader. CTS is glad to help NSHS. We will be glad to help you, too. Come in and wish us a happy 50th Anniversary!

Trained and inspired leadership is needed in the troubled world of today. We live in uncertainty — one of the goals of true education. Unfortunately, the world so clamors for action that men and women devote little time to thinking. Many believe in second-hand thinking. They find it easier to ascertain and adopt the thoughts of others than to think for themselves.

Graduating? Now's the time to Guard your future.

The Army Guard has a lot going for you: long-term benefits, tuition assistance if you're going on to school, and a paycheck every month while you're learning leadership and technical skills that could help you in your civilian career. After basic training, you will serve the Guard two days a month, plus two weeks annual training. And you can serve near your home or school because usually there's a Guard unit close by.

Perhaps most importantly, you'll have the satisfaction of knowing you're there to help your neighbors, your friends, your state and your country in an emergency. That's what the Army Guard is all about.

For more information on career opportunities available in the Army Guard, please call.

COLOPHON

This 26th volume of THE SHIELD was produced by the yearbook staff for the students, faculty, staff, parents, and community of North Scott. It was printed by Josten's American Yearbook Company in Topeka, Kansas represented by Fred Thompson of Iowa City. 850 copies were printed. The cover and division page art was especially created for us by graphic artist Tracy Gibbon. A gloss 191 pound paper was used throughout the book. The headlines in the sports sections were hand drawn by Jane Matthews. The cover is silk screened and is a school design.

The North Scott faculty and staff were saddened at the terrible death of junior Monica Bailey on February 22, 1984.

The daughter of John and Esther Petersen Bailey succumbed to injuries received in a car-truck accident on December 17, 1983.

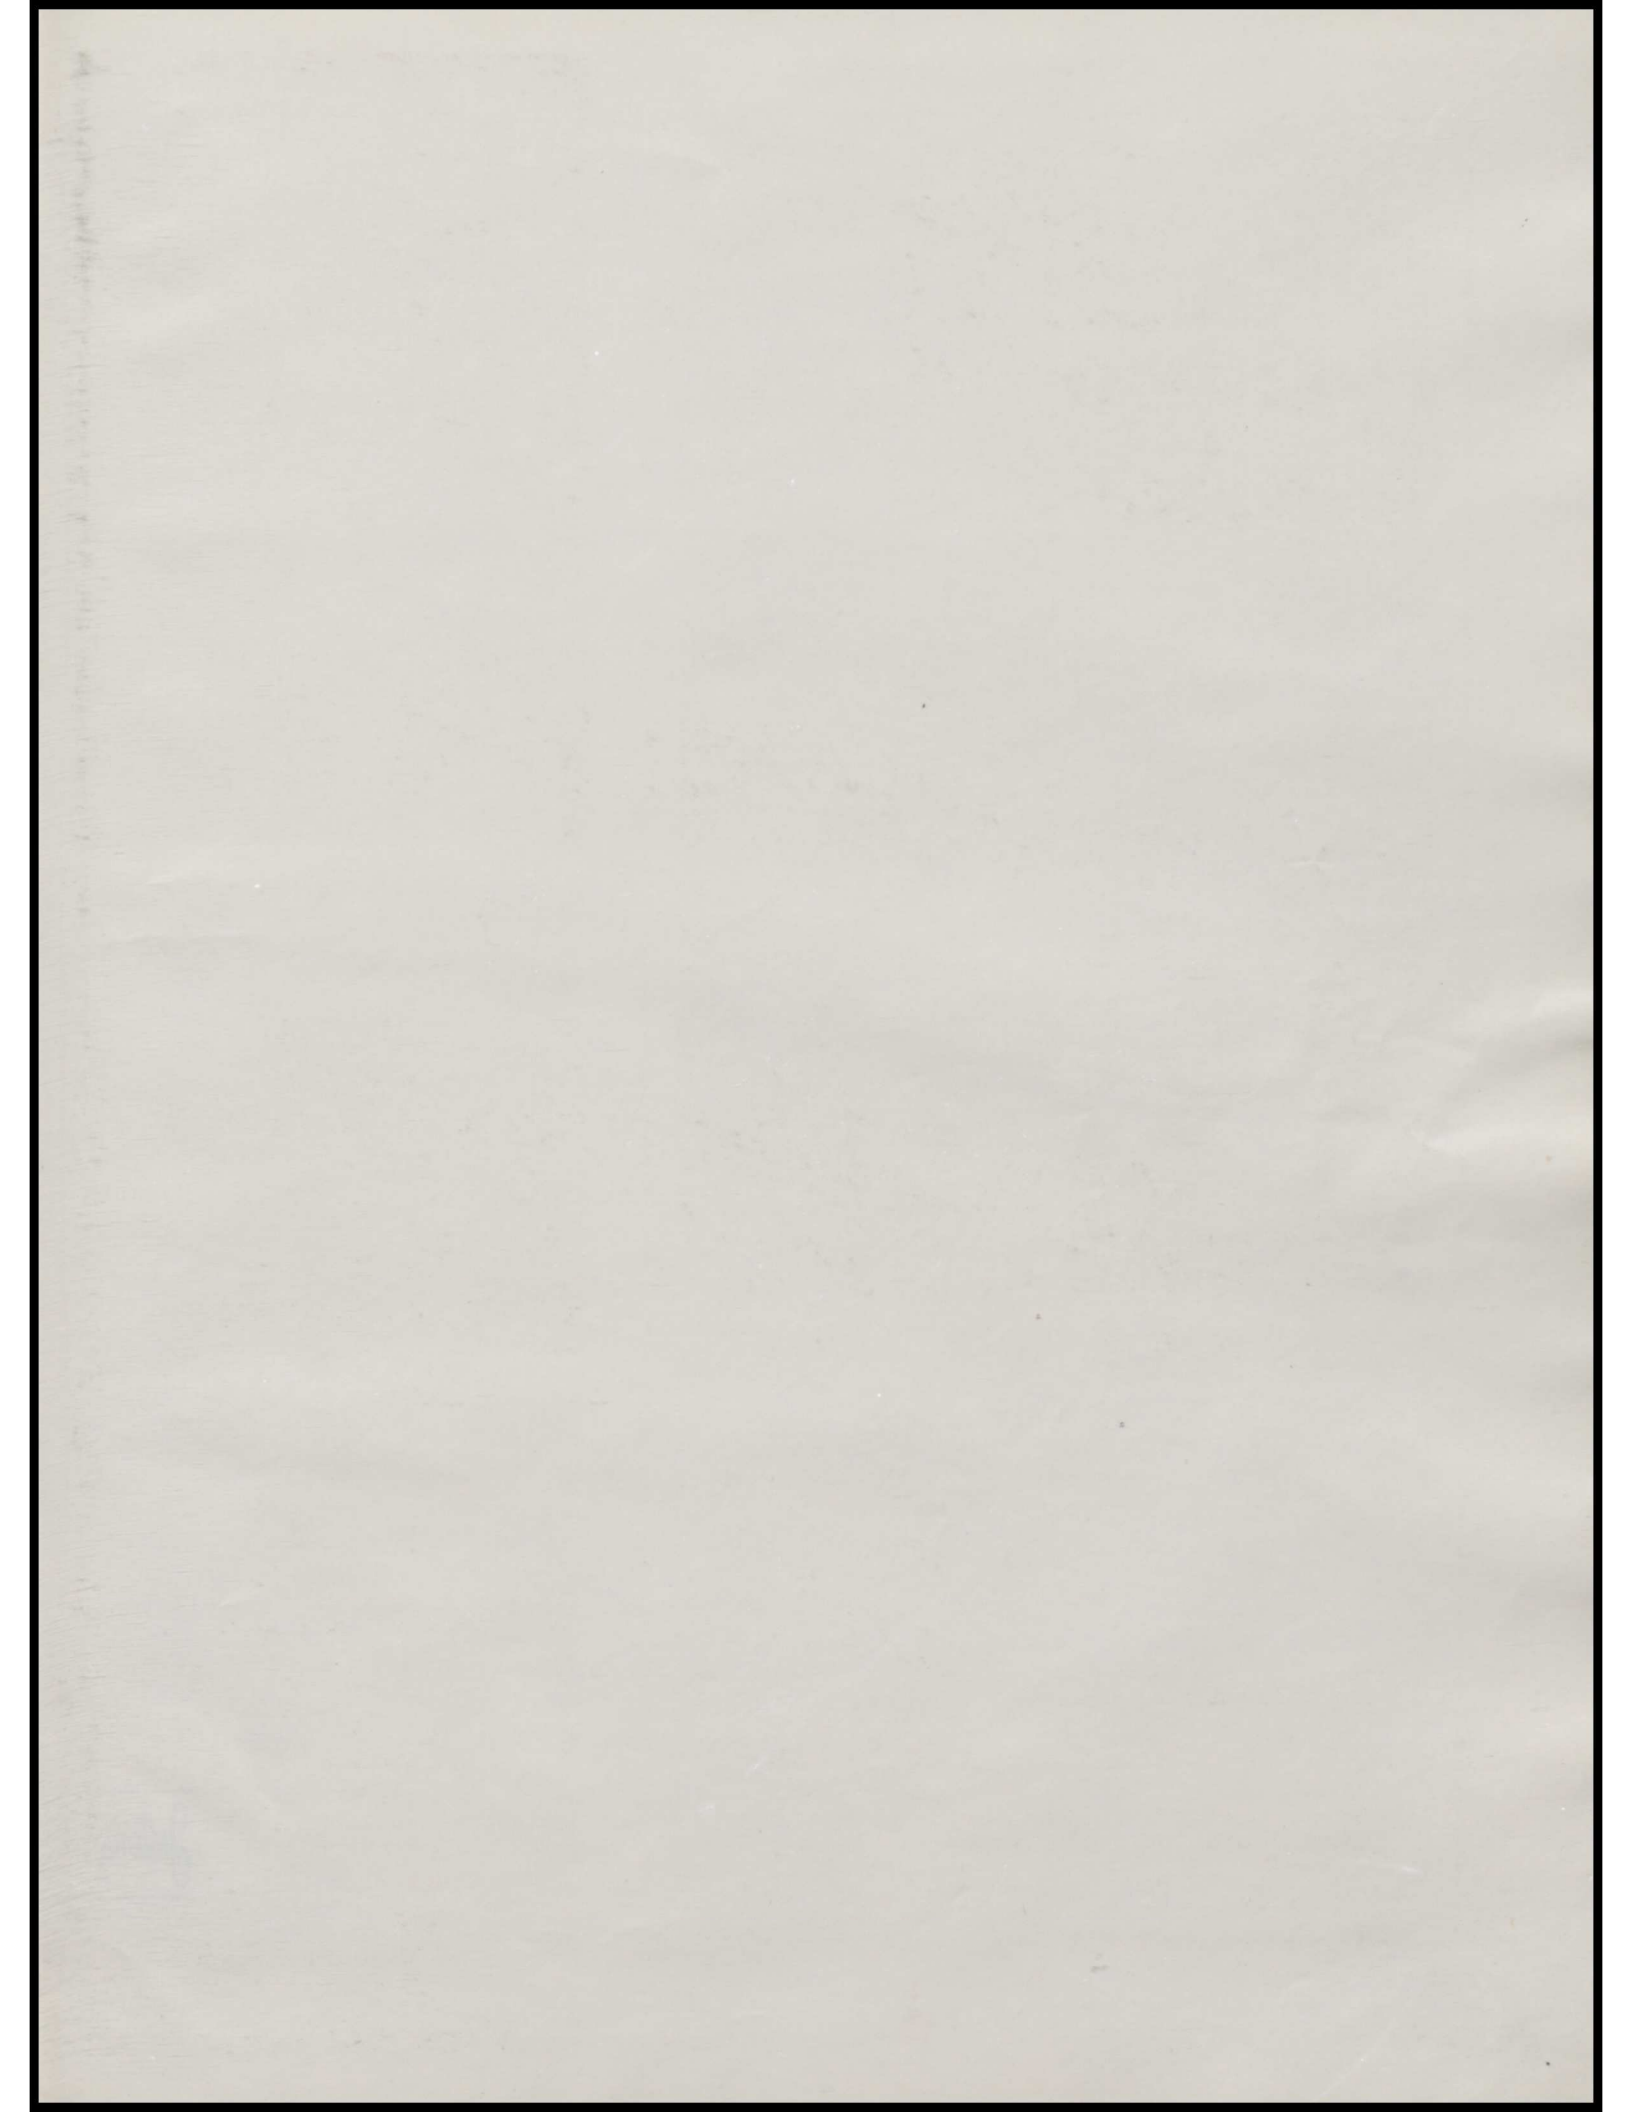

Services were at St. Ann's Church, Long Grove. Father Clifford Egert officiated. Pallbearers were Brian Tobin, John Borland, Mike Sinnott, Doug Shaw and Jim Zimmer.

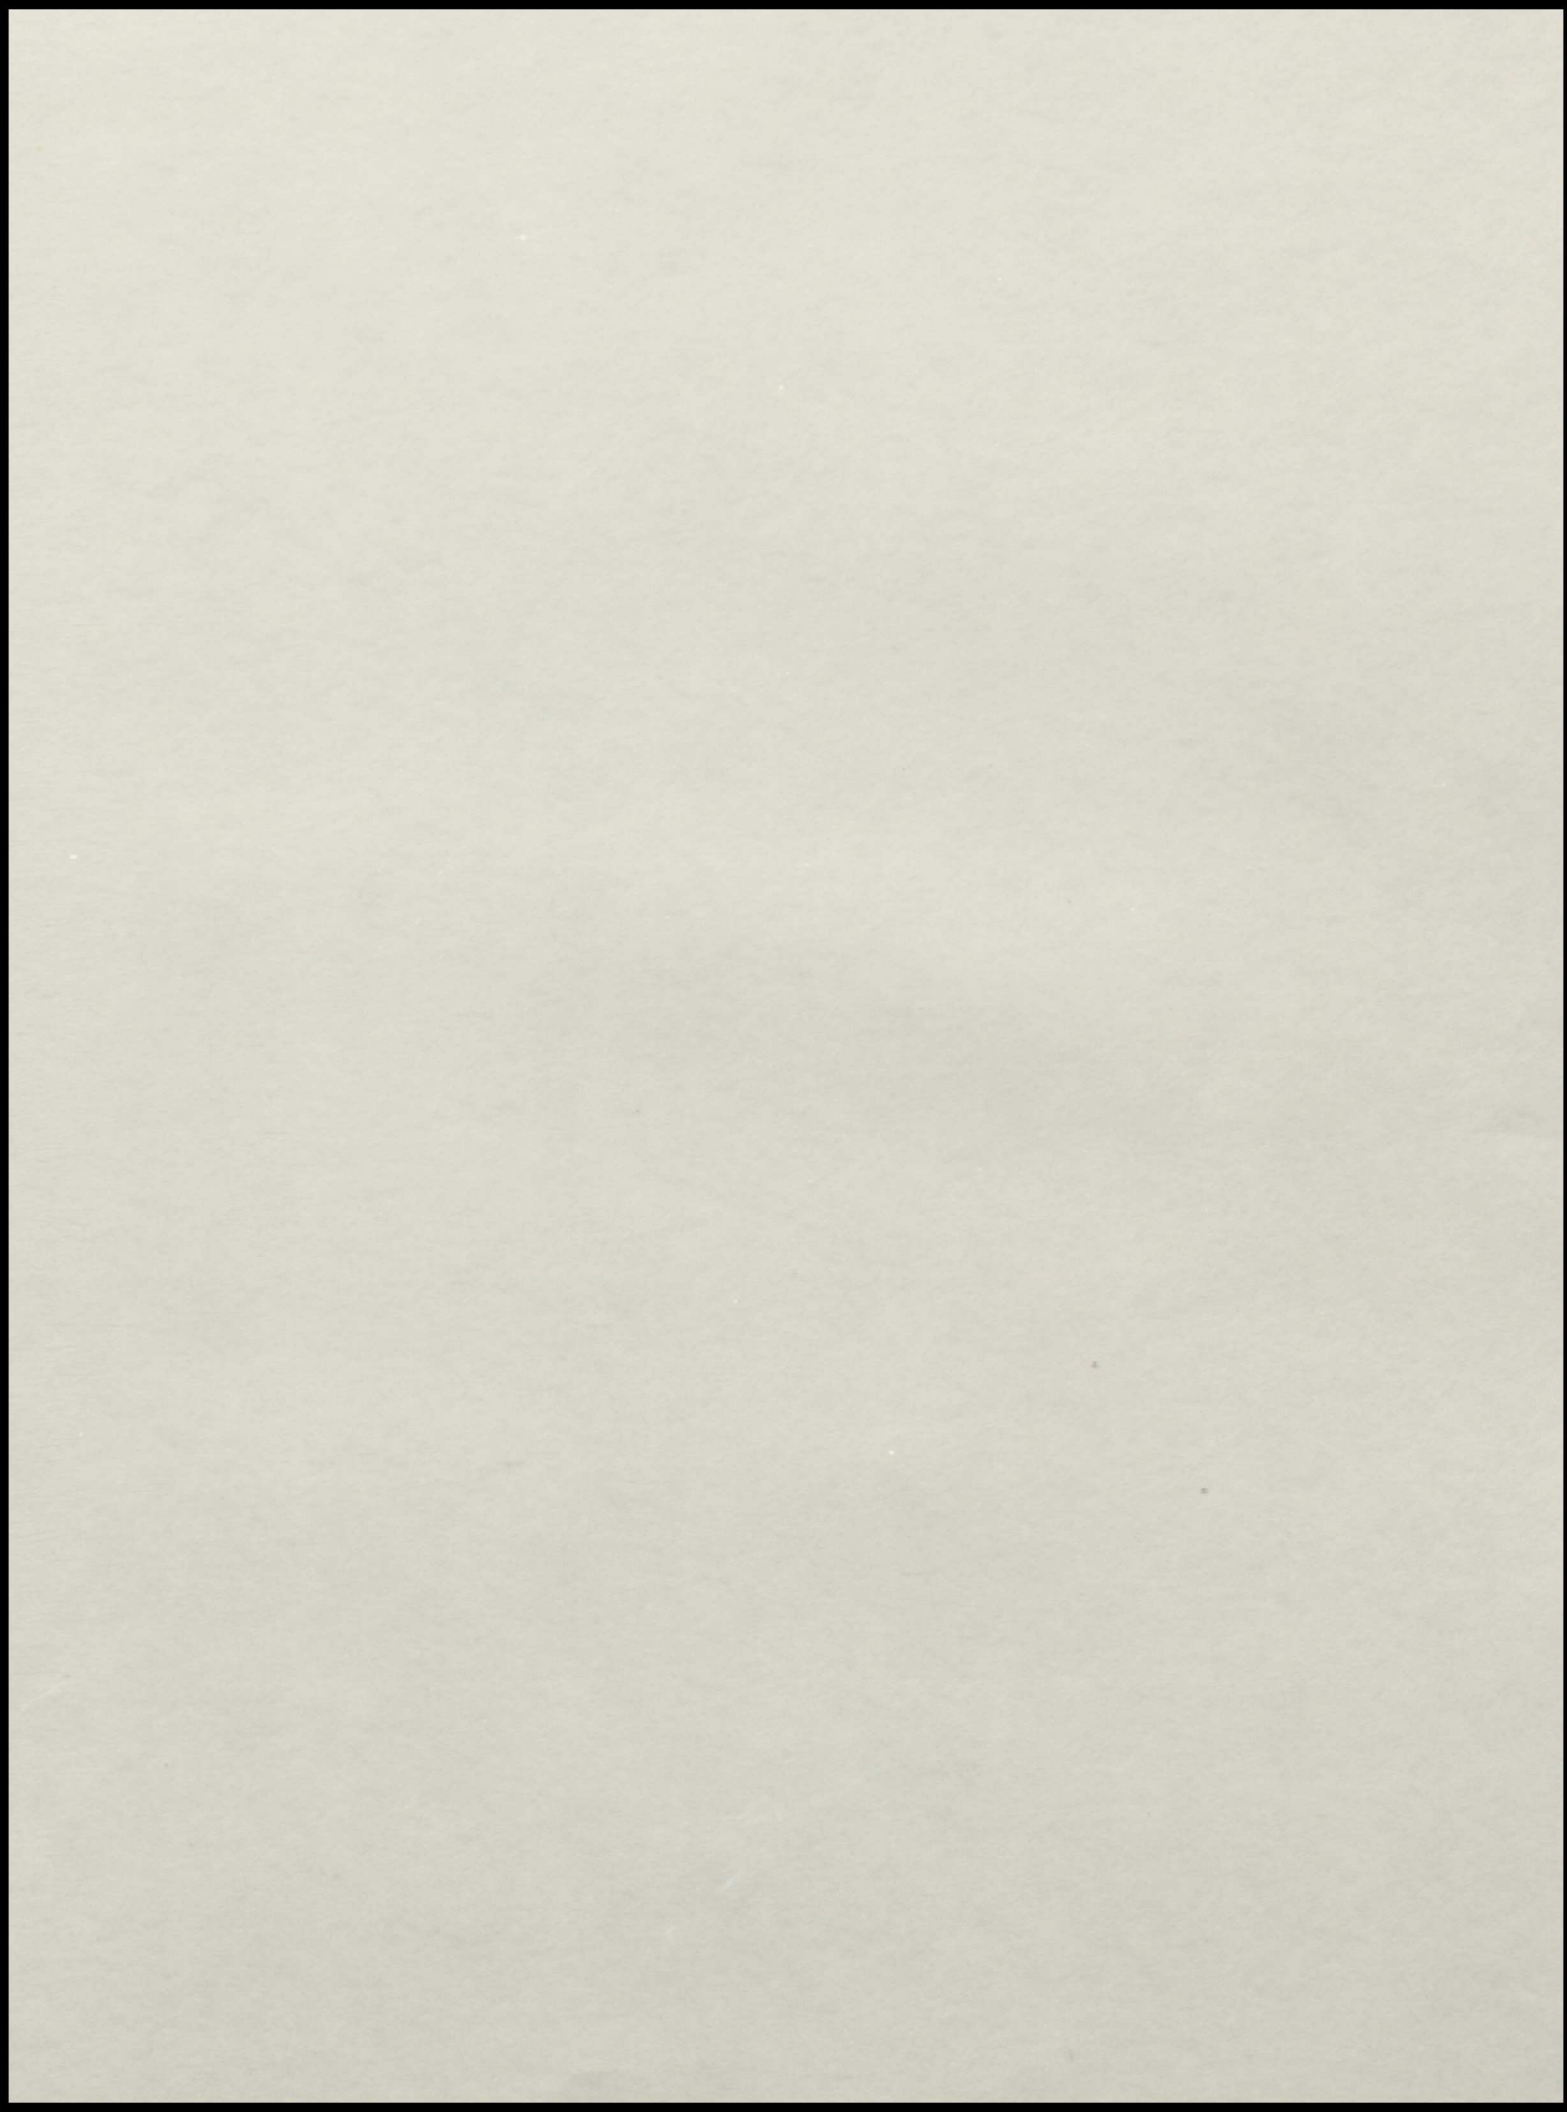

Memorials were made to Students Against Drunk Driving.

Monica's fellow students will not forget her presence amongst us.

Monica Ann Bailey
